RUSSIA GRABS HUGE AREA IN FINLAND

British Failure To Help Finland Is Attacked

HORE-BELISHA ASSAILS ACTION IN PARLIAMENT

Ousted War Secretary Enters Debate After Chamberlain Tells of Peace.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 13—Britain's refusal to give large scale aid to Finland until the Finns appealed for such help was bitterly attacked in the house of commons today by Leslie Hore-Belisha, recently dismissed war secretary.

"Is it not a pity, in relation to the magnitude of these events and of their far-reaching character, to plead as an excuse for inaction a pure technicality?" Hore-Belisha asked.

He spoke immediately after a brief statement to the House by Prime Minister Chamberlain on the peace concluded between Finland and Soviet Russia last night.

Talks After Chamberlain

Hore-Belisha, who was reported to have urged an expeditionary force for Finland before he was ousted on Jan. 5, entered the debate after Chamberlain had told commons that Britain had made plain its willingness to give all possible help to the Finns "in their gallant struggle against aggression."

"While associating myself with the expressions of sympathy with the Finns," said Hore-Belisha, "is it not a fact that repeated appeals have been made by that country for assistance in materials and men and is it not a pity in relation to the magnitude of these events and their far-reaching character to plead as an excuse for inaction a pure technicality?"

Chamberlain retorted: "It is not correct to say that repeated requests for men had been made by the Finnish government."

Of the Finns Chamberlain said: "In their decision they may be assured that the people in this country are united in sympathy with the situation in which they find themselves and admiration for the courage with which they have maintained for so long a struggle against overwhelming odds."

House Cheers

The house cheered this statement loudly.

Chamberlain said the British minister in Helsinki had been informed officially this morning of the peace treaty.

He said that throughout the struggle the British government and France had furnished Finland with large quantities of raw materials and supplies.

"This epic story will ever be recorded in the chronicles of Finnish history and will remain always in the memory of all people," Chamberlain continued.

Chamberlain said that the British government had made plain their readiness to give all possible help to the Finns in their gallant struggle against aggression.

Clement R. Attlee, Laborite leader, following Chamberlain, declared that "we all are agreed in admiration for the Finns in their struggle, and while we are grieved that the slaughter has been stopped we deeply regret the success of aggression."

As Britain had been willing to aid the Finns in defending themselves against aggression, Attlee said, "we should render them all the assistance we can in order to repair the damages of this unprovoked attack on the people."

GERMANY TO SHIP ITALY COAL BY RAIL

By The Associated Press

ROME, March 13—Italy and Germany today signed an agreement whereby the reich agrees to supply Italy's coal needs by rail despite the allied sea blockade and other arrangements by sea.

Details of the agreement were withheld, but it was announced negotiations for it were conducted by German Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop and Premier Mussolini over the week-end.

It was reported in political circles that German coal would be shipped through three or more Alpine passes. Germany is expected to name commercial quarters to handle the coal from the Ruhr and Westphalia, while Italy will use most of its 6,000 cars for transport of coal from Poland.

The agreement was signed for Germany by Dr. Karl Clodius, economic expert, who recently negotiated a new German-Italian trade agreement, and for Italy by Count Amadeo Giannini.

Traffic Disrupted In Marion Area By Icy Highways

Bus in Ditch North of Carey; Scores of Cars Skid from Roads.

A light rain accompanied by freezing temperatures last night left a coating of ice on streets and highways throughout Marion and vicinity and brought highway travel almost to a standstill. Road conditions were reported to be still dangerous but gradually improving at noon today.

Two Wyandot county motorists were injured, one seriously, when the cars they were driving collided near Upper Sandusky. Officials said that poor vision due to a heavy mist apparently contributed to the accident.

Approximately a score of cars skidded into ditches and over curbs in Marion and immediate vicinity during the night and similar reports were received from several nearby counties. However, neither police nor the state highway patrol here received reports of serious accidents.

A large Greyhound bus enroute from Toledo to Columbus skidded into a ditch seven miles northwest of Carey on Route 15 about 5 a. m. today and had not yet been removed from the ditch at noon today. Wreckers from cities throughout this section of the state were called to help pull the giant vehicle back onto the road, among them a wrecker from Nick's garage here. The bus, which was southbound, was due in Marion at 5.15 a. m.

Snow Forecast

Little hope for relief from the ice is held out in the official government weather forecast which predicts rain tonight changing to light snow tomorrow. Temperatures will rise slowly tonight but

Finns Find Only Honor in Peace With Red Russia

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The treaty which tiny Finland has signed with a pistol at her head is an "honorable peace," as no one can gainsay—for her brave defense of freedom in the face of overwhelming odds would render any terms honorable so far as she is concerned.

Finland need have no fear the world will think aught than that she has made a magnificent fight to the utmost limit of her ability.

Having said that, however, it must be recorded that the pact is a very terrible one for the Finns.

It strips them of strategic territories and renders them impotent in the matter of defense.

To all intents it puts armed Bolshevist sentries inside the Finnish home.

In short, it gives the Reds a domination which makes the little republic virtually a dependency of Moscow. Forcible penetration of Communism would be a logical development.

Finns Only Hope

The only hope the Finns may have of relief from these terms would seem to be the possibility of allied deliverance at the end of the war with Germany. And one wonders whether in their stunned and shattered condition they have any hope at all. If their foreign minister, Vaino Tanner, speaks for them, they are feeling very deserted and alone.

That was an awful indictment which the minister made this morning in his brief. He declared Finland had agreed to Russia's terms because of lack of weapons and because the Finns "had no faith in the promises of others."

Not only has Finnish independence suffered thus grievously, but her industrial life has been given a serious set-back. When the Bolshevists take over the big railway and manufacturing center of Viipuri (Viborg) they will just about have pulled the engine out of the Finnish machine.

Far Reaching Effect

Beyond the crushing of Finland, the peace terms may have far-reaching effects on the rest of Europe. Possession of the entire Karelian isthmus with its Mannerheim line, the great naval base of Hanko, together with other strategic concessions, make the Moscovites masters of the whole northern Baltic region.

The threat of the spread of Communism, which Sweden and Norway have been fearing, now is very near to them. It is nearer to the rest of Europe, for that matter.

U. S. LOAN NOT AFFECTED BY FINNISH PEACE

Reaction to Moscow Settlement Gathered from U. S. and European Capitals.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 13—The belief prevailed in the capital today that Russo-Finnish peace would not affect the recent $20,000,000 loan to Finland by the export-import bank, but would enable the money to be used in reconstructing the war-torn country.

Formal comment on the Soviet announcement of a treaty ending the Baltic conflict was withheld by officials until the state department could study complete dispatches.

Government fiscal experts, however, have professed no concern about the money loaned to Finland. Several months ago the Export-Import bank turned over $10,000,000. Then congress increased the bank' capital so that it could make another $20,000,000 loan. The latter has been allocated but has not been used.

Officials took it for granted that the Finns would make purchases in the United States with the money. As one high official said yesterday, "Finland will need a lot of things whether the war goes on or not."

In regard to the diplomatic angles of the Russo-Finnish war, the state department has shown a tendency to hold itself aloof. Similarly, a senate foreign relations subcommittee voted recently to take no action on a proposal to apply the neutrality act to that conflict. Its decision was to have been put before the full committee this morning.

ROME TO DEFEND LIBERTY OF ACTION

By The Associated Press

ROME, March 13 — General Ubaldo Soddu, undersecretary of war, told the Fascist chamber today that Italy is ready to defend its liberty of action with 1,000,000 trained men under arms and with a fortified bulwark across its Alpine frontiers.

The undersecretary for war said the million trained men all were recruited from the younger war classes.

The address came amidst general expressions of Italian satisfaction that Russia and Finland had signed a peace treaty.

Pehr Evind Svinhufvud, former Finnish president, learned of the Finnish-Russian peace treaty when he arrived here today from Berlin but he made no comment.

Italians viewed the Moscow treaty as a compromise which stopped the threat of general warfare spreading through Scandanavia, something both Premier

GOV. BRICKER FILES FOR SECOND TERM

Executive Cites Accomplishments of Administration.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 13—Gov. Bricker asked Ohio voters for a second term today, declaring his administration had kept a promise to reduce expenses and avoid new taxes.

He filed nominating petitions for the Republican primary bearing 153,000 signatures from all 88 counties.

After listing millions of dollars in savings and asserting that "the political fixers, chiselers and racketeers" had been driven out of the state government, Governor Bricker said "the state's business is now conducted in the open."

"It is my belief," he added, "that the people of Ohio want that kind of government continued. In declaring my candidacy I pledge to the people of Ohio a continuance of that kind of an administration."

Bricker said the accomplishments of his administration included:

Payment of $2,290,000 on a "general revenue deficit which was inherited from 1938";

A $12,500,000 increase in contributions to poor relief, old age pensions, schools and other welfare activities;

Payment of $3,000,000 on the school foundation program debt;

Reorganization of the department of taxation with a saving of $450,000;

Removal of thousands of "political parasites" from the state

City's 24 "Worst Corners" Listed in Traffic Survey

This is the third in a series of articles on the WPA traffic survey report which was finished recently.

Twenty-four corners out of the hundreds in Marion accounted for more than half of the intersection accidents studied in the recently completed WPA traffic survey.

They were responsible for more than one-fourth of all accidents in Marion. "Mid-block" accidents amounted to nearly half of the total studied.

The "worst corner list," as it is called in the report, was compiled from police records and included all intersections at which four or more accidents occurred in 1938.

The authors of the report, in going over the police records, found them "very sketchy and incomplete and...inadequate for statistical studies." The report recommends reporting of all accidents on a standard form by an accident squad trained in traffic work.

Cite Need of Statistics

Statistics such as those on the "worst corners" are held to be vital to a program of traffic correction. Accidents are called the worst feature of any traffic situation, although congestion and delay are troublesome and costly in time and money.

"It is obvious...that unless a sound foundation is established, by complete and adequate accident records, any program so based will reflect the weakness of the foundation," the report states.

Although police records show a high accident frequency in Marion, the WPA report authors believe that all accidents in the city are not being reported.

Other Recommendations

Other general recommendations in regard to traffic accidents and reporting:

1. Require by ordinance that the police department be notified of all accidents immediately and that all doctors and hospitals notify police on admission of any emergency case.

2. That the police department have men and equipment available to investigate accidents and emergencies immediately.

3. That the department continue the use of standard reporting forms, recently inaugurated.

4. Maintain spot maps, showing location of accidents by types.

5. Assign mounted men to hazard points.

6. Maintain a driver record file to determine repeaters. Follow up all court cases involving acci-

Margaret Speaks Prepares Carefully Chosen Songs for Marion Concert

Reserved Seats Available at No Extra Fee for Thursday Concert.

When Margaret Speaks comes to Marion Thursday evening to be guest singer on the Marion Civic orchestra's concert program she will be heard in a program carefully prepared for the highest musical tastes. The concert will be given in the Palace theater under the sponsorship of the Woman's Symphony board.

This distinguished singer makes every effort to comply with top standards of the musical world. Miss Speaks believes that a program should be composed of the best songs that a singer can find, and believes that it requires extensive research to compile a concert program acceptable to real music lovers.

"Of course a program must be musically pleasurable," the artist writes. "A song must be selected for its beauty, and of course much of the program must be familiar. A singer must give his audience good songs which they

Britain Prepares For Intensification Of Western War

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 13 — Great Britain and France, weighing the effects of a Russian-Finnish peace, prepared themselves for an intensification of their own war and for a possible combined Nazi-Soviet diplomatic offensive against allied interests in the Balkans.

Moscow's announcement of a treaty with Finland, ostensibly freeing Russia's resources to support the war machine of her economically, may mean a Nazi offensive in the west.

London and Paris received reports from Bucharest that Germany and Russia were planning to offer Rumania territorial guarantees in exchange for trade concessions. British and French officials declined to comment, pending action of the Finnish diet (parliament) on the reported peace treaty but the settlement, coming on the heels of the allies' purported willingness to intervene in Finland, had its effect in both capitals.

Some observers tried to portray Scandinavia as "the villain of the piece" through refusal to allow allied reinforcements to cross their territories into Finland. This refusal weakened the allied promise of aid, it was contended.

The authoritative British press association quoted most English papers as agreeing that the offer to aid Finland was made too late, however.

That the Russian-Finnish armistice would kill any allied plans of allied military operations through Scandinavia against Germany's flank or Russia was evident in London. Only yesterday in Paris, Premier Daladier told the chamber of deputies that 50,000 allied troops were momentarily ready to go to Finland — if she called for help.

Now there was the prospect that Russia, with her campaign against Finland over, would be free to supply 300 waiting German divisions with the materials for an offensive against the Maginot line.

DOUBLE FUNERAL HELD FOR ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Double funeral service for Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Armintrout of 545 Ballentine avenue was conducted today at 2 p. m. at the Schaffner-Denzer Co. funeral home on East Center street. Rev. Harry G. Deeds of Greenwood Evangelical church and Rev. Herbert Graham of West Mansfield officiated. Burial was made in Greenlawn cemetery at West Mansfield. Mr. and Mrs. Armintrout died at City hospital Saturday night a few hours after their car figured in an automobile collision at East Main and Jefferson streets.

FINNS CRUSHED BY HEAVY ODDS SUBMIT TO MOSCOW 'PEACE'

Agreement Yet To Be Approved at Helsinki Gives Reds More Than Demanded Before War.

By The Associated Press

HELSINKI, March 13—Weary Finland, lacking weapons and skeptical of foreign offers of help, ended her bitter three-and-one-half-months struggle against Soviet Russia today by yielding more soil and economic and military independence than demanded before the war.

At 11 a. m. (4 a. m. Marion time) the dogged, courageous Finnish army stopped fighting, and a gloomy peace settled over the battlefields, from the corpse-piled Karelian isthmus to icy Lapland.

Beginning Friday, the Finnish troops will retreat at the rate of seven kilometers (about 4.5 miles) a day to narrowed frontiers fixed by the treaty signed at Moscow last night.

The treaty still was subject to formal ratification by the Finnish diet within three days.

After an anxious night in which Russia announced the stringent peace terms but the Finnish government was silent, Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner disclosed them in a broadcast to the Finnish people.

Subsequent addresses were scheduled by Finland's President Kyosti Kallio and Field Marshal Baron Carl Gustaf Mannerheim.

Finland was forced to yield because she lacked arms and "had no faith in the promises of others" to aid in the unequal struggle against a foe 50 times her size, Hanner declared.

Immediately after the foreign minister's broadcast all flags on public buildings were lowered to half staff.

Helsinki's newspapers appeared with heavy black mourning borders.

No Joy in Finland

News of the peace brought no celebration or scenes of joy in Helsinki, where people heard the terms for the first time from Tanner. Crowds huddled around public radios anxiously, and many women wept.

Apparently Finnish authorities had maintained the nation's morale to such an extent that the man in the street found it difficult to believe it necessary to give up now, although he seemed to feel that if the government decided to end the struggle it would be suicidal to continue it.

Great Britain and France yesterday offered to send 50,000 troops to Finland, but Tanner said, "the only possible route was through Norway and Sweden, who refused to let the troops through. This refusal proved an unconquerable obstacle.

"Thus Finland was left alone to face an enemy of superior numbers."

He highly praised the conduct of Finland's stubborn defenders, saying their feats were "astonishing and beyond expectations," but reinforcements were lacking.

Tanner Lauds People

The public—which reacted to the peace with numb bewilderment—also was lauded by Tanner.

"The home front acted beautifully and the people's morale was praiseworthy," he said, under almost daily bombing attacks and other hardships of war.

The response of this public to the peace was uncertain as yet, but foreign observers took it for granted that a change in the government was imminent.

Defensively, Tanner asserted:

"The surrender is not our fault—it is the fault of our being forsaken by our fellow democracies."

Despite loss through the treaty of all the Karelian isthmus, Viipuri, all the shores of Lake Ladoga, the strategic peninsula of Hanko on which Russia will put a naval base, the great chunks of land in the Arctic, Tanner said it was wisest to make peace while Finland's defenses remained "unbroken."

"What kind of peace?" Tanner asked. "A severely wounded nation is surrendering important industrial and agricultural territories."

Broad Foothold Gained by Soviet In Peace Terms

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, March 13 — Soviet Russia gained broad territorial, economic and military footholds in Finland today with a treaty ending her costly 105-day war in a fashion which the Kremlin regards as the greatest defeat of the British in a century.

The undeclared war's conclusion was looked upon at the Soviet seat of government as a "splendid contribution to world peace."

(Britain and France, at war with Germany, Russia's friend, offered yesterday to send an army to aid Finland, but the Finns acceded to Russia's terms last night and said they had lost faith in foreign promises.)

The treaty's terms indicate that Russia has achieved her long-sought security for Leningrad from assault by sea power by land or sea over Finnish soil or waters.

Viipuri, the Finnish city which goes to Russia under the treaty, has been called the key to Leningrad's defense since Peter the Great founded Leningrad as St. Petersburg.

Reds Paid Heavy Price

The price paid by the Russians in three and one-half months of fighting undoubtedly was a heavy one, but it was pointed out that the Soviet Union was a rich country, able and willing to pay well for its gains.

Hostilities ended at noon today (4 a. m. Marion time) the announcement said, with the Finnish government allowed three days to ratify the treaty.

Under the treaty, Finland would yield to Russia:

The entire Karelian isthmus, including the bitterly-contested Mannerheim defense line, strewn with Russian and Finnish corpses;

The wrecked but uncaptured city of Viipuri, along with Viipuri bay and its islands;

All the shores of Lake Ladoga and some territory northeast of the lake. (Where the Finns have reported the slaying of thousands of Russian troops);

A 30-year Russian lease on the peninsula of Hanko, Finnish "Gibraltar" at the mouth of the Gulf of Finland, which Russia intends to convert into a military and naval base;

Various islands in the Gulf of Finland;

A broad swath of eastern Finland in the region of the Arctic circle;

Part of the Srednl and Rybachi peninsulas on the Arctic ocean;

A railroad to be built this year to link Russia's White sea ports with the Gulf of Bothnia;

Operation of a Russian airline across the Petsamo district between Russia and Norway and no restriction on passage of Russian citizens or commerce across this area;

A promise that no Finnish warplanes, warships or submarines, except for small coast guard boats, will operate in the Arctic ocean.

In return, the Finns get peace and a yearly rental of 8,000,000 Finnish markka (about $120,000) for Hanko.

They must negotiate a trade treaty and make a non-aggression alliance with Russia. (Russia denounced the previous non-aggression pact just before invading Finland Nov. 30.)

Russia's original demands, which the Finns had refused, were much less severe. They offered Finland part of Soviet Karelia on Finland's long eastern border in return for a small strip of the Karelian isthmus northwest of Leningrad; a lease on Hanko; part of the Srednl and Rybachi peninsulas; and exchange of some islands in the Gulf of Finland.

PLANE SHARES STRONG TODAY

Aviation Issues Make Sturdy Comeback in Confused Market.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, March 13—Aviation shares made a sturdy comeback today in a market confused by the dramatic termination of the Finnish-Russian war.

Some traders bought back the aircrafts they sold yesterday, but other issues moved unevenly toward the fourth hour. Transactions were slow.

Carrying plus signs were Curtiss-Wright "A," Douglas, United Aircraft, Martin, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, U. S. Gypsum, Union Carbide, American Telephone, International Telephone and Great Northern preferred. Hesitant were Bethlehem, Dow Chemical, Westinghouse and American Can.

Those interested in steels noted an Iron Age magazine report saying: "A considerable increase in demand is needed to prevent the production rate from slipping back to the 58 per cent rate which prevailed in early September at the outbreak of the European war.

Scandinavian dollar loans gained in an otherwise practically dormant bond market. Commodities slipped. Foreign markets declined.

Moving ahead in the curb were United Shoe Machinery, Consolidated Gas & Electric of Baltimore and Brewster Aero, while laggards included Alabama Great Southern, Aluminum Ltd., and Gulf Oil.

On the shady side of the market outlook was an estimate that freight carloadings last week declined more than seasonally to about 617,000 cars, compared with 634,410 in the previous week and 581,691 in the like 1939 period.

On the sunnier side was a prediction that 18 important utilities systems would spend about $650,000,000 in new construction this year, a sum $50,000,000 greater than previously figured and 44 per cent more than was spent for the same purpose last year.

WHEAT PRICES HIT 8-DAY LOW MARK

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, March 13 — Wheat prices fell more than 2 cents a bushel today to the lowest level in eight days as the market reflected traders' reaction to receipt of good snows over much of the grain belt and the Russian-Finnish peace.

Selling through houses with northwestern and eastern connections led the decline, bringing numerous stop loss orders into execution.

Talk of further peace moves in Europe and the much-needed beneficial moisture received by the spring wheat zone dominated trade developments.

Rallying slightly from the day's lows, wheat closed 1¾-1¾ cents lower than yesterday, May $1.01⅜-⅝, July 99⅜-¾; corn ¾-⅞ down, May 55¼-⅜, July 56⅜; oats ¼-½ lower.

Cash wheat was 1-2 lower; basis unchanged; receipts 5 cars; corn ½-¾ lower; basis unchanged to ¼ off; receipts 78 cars; shipping sales 23,000 bushels; booked to arrive 50,000 bushels; oats ¼-½ lower.

Export interests reported sale of more than 100,000 bushels of U. S. Pacific coast wheat under subsidy to Europe.

FORMER PUBLISHER STRICKEN IN DAYTON

DAYTON, O., March 13—Elzey G. Burkam, 66, retired, former president of the Burkam-Herrick Publishing Co., publishers of the Dayton Journal and Herald, died here today after a brief illness.

For years he and the late Myron T. Herrick, Cleveland, former U. S. ambassador to France, operated the two newspapers here and following the death of Herrick, Burkam took over sole ownership of the publications. He retired from active business life about five years ago after disposing of his newspaper interests.

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION IN HOSPITAL SOUGHT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 13—Firemen, building inspectors and gas company technicians today sought to determine the cause of a gas explosion that tore out a foot-thick basement wall and injured 18 persons, two seriously, in the laboratory of the Booth Memorial hospital.

Officials of the hospital, a maternity institution operated by the Salvation Army, said none of the 43 babies, their mothers or 15 expectant mothers suffered from the explosion, which did not extend above the first floor.

YOUTHS HELD AFTER MARYSVILLE CRASH

Delaware Pair Fined; Three Hurt in Accident.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 13—Two Delaware youths were arrested here early yesterday after their passenger car was demolished in a collision with a truck. Shelby T. Hobbs, 21, allegedly driver of the car, pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving. His companion, Harry Kenard, about 21, pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication.

They were arraigned before Mayor William Asman. Hobbs was fined $50 and costs and Kenard $25 and costs. Both were remanded to the Union county jail pending arrangements to pay the assessments. Kenard suffered face and head lacerations which required seven stitches.

Two Delaware girls, both 18, who were reported to have been occupants in the Hobbs car, escaped with minor bruises. James H. Kusick of Columbus, operator of the truck, escaped without serious injury.

The accident occurred in front of the Fred Kleiber residence on East Fifth street and was investigated by Night Officer Frank Gilbert and Sheriff Homer S. Roosa.

The Stars Say—

Thursday, March 14

A day of swift-moving and startling events is forecast from a very interesting chain of planetary configurations. It is a day blanketed by the curious advice to expect the unexpected, for there will be sudden visitations both singular and unpredictable, and these will have far-reaching influence in shaping the future destiny and fortune. There are auguries of the weird, psychological and devastating, but all unite to make a pattern of surprising success, unexpected progress and strange adventures, probably in business, affectional and spiritual relationships.

Those whose birthday it is are on the brink of a year of strange and entirely unforseen, possibly unprecedented, adventures and experiences. It would be well to anticipate all manner of sudden visitations, which may have deep influence on the business, social, creative and romantic life. Handled with discrimination and a degree of poise and wise adjustment, they are likely to have thrilling denouements. There may be premonitions, psychic insight or lofty creative urges in the realm of poetry, music or fiction.

A child born on this day may be unusually original and talented in unique expression. It may have a strange career, with romance and adventure, culminating in success and possibly renown.

Daily Pattern for Home Use

By ANNE ADAMS

CHIC BOLERO AND SUNTAN FROCK

PATTERN 4410

Could anything "under the sun" be smarter than this spirited new sun outfit, designed by Anne Adams? Every line of Pattern 4410 makes fashion news! First of all, there's a smart, low suntan back. Then, the front skirt panels, curving high up on the bodice at either side, are cut on the bias for trim, smooth waist fit and to give generous flare in the skirt below. And the back-buttoning is both decorative and convenient for double-quick donning and flat-spread ironing. Don't miss the jaunty bolero which tops off the whole costume, adding to its round-about usefulness. Why not make it of a vidid contrast?

Pattern 4410 is available in junior miss sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16 and 17. Size 13, dress, takes 3¾ yards 35 inch fabric; bolero, 1⅛ yards of contrast.

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

It's smart to "sew your own"! And with Anne Adams' spring style book for expert guidance, you can have that well-dressed look always. Choose from dozens of frocks, suits, coats, home-modes pictured. See the new silhouettes — peg-top, bouffant, apron and longer-torso—shown in both sunlight and starlight styles. Sportsters, tailoreds and dress-up clothes for bride, career girl, hard-to-fit matron and young set, are all included. Order a copy today! Book fifteen cents. Pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

SEEK WAY TO RAISE CONSERVANCY FUNDS

Muskingum District Needs $464,000 for Old Debts.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 13—Rep Secrest, Democrat of Ohio, reported today that officials of the Muskingum conservancy district in Ohio would attempt to raise without taxation $464,000, needed for past obligations if the federal government purchases easement instead of land for flood control in the district.

Secrest declared the transfer of easements was suggested after the attorney general ruled the district lacked authority to turn over fee simple titles to lands.

While he withheld details of the plan it was similar to that suggested previously by Ohio Gov. Bricker that the state conservation commission could supply the difference from its revenues if the government would not pay as much for easements as for land titles.

An amendment to the 1938 flood control act authorized the government to assume the cost of flood control and pay for future maintenance of district reservoirs. Col J D Arthur of the army engineers estimated the $464,000 as the amount the district would lose if only easements were transferred.

Unless the district raised the money through another source, revenue would need to be obtained locally in an area which already had experienced "tax strikes."

"We are working on a plan for the transfer of flood easements to the federal government," Secrest said after a conference with engineers and district officials. Such a plan contemplates removal of all possible taxes, and preservation of conservation and recreational features of the program, together with the preservation of agricultural lands."

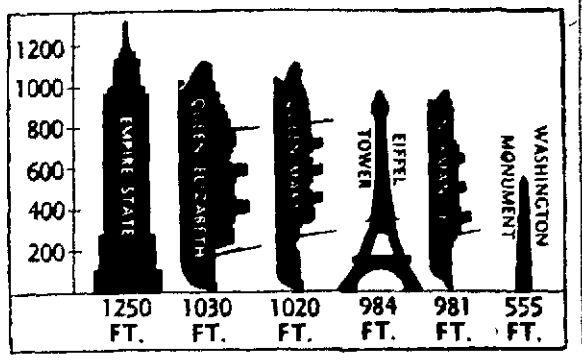
Yes, It's a Big Ship



By The Associated Press

When the biggest ship in the world slipped into New York the other day, one of the questions that immediately arose was how big a big ship is. This diagram shows that it's really very big, even when compared with the tallest buildings and towers. The Queen Elizabeth was docked near the other refugees from the war, the Queen Mary and the Normandie, the world's No. 2 and 3 ships.

PRESENT TENSE RELIGION CRESTLINE PASTOR'S TOPIC

'Present Tense Religion' was the subject discussed by Rev. T M Patterson of Crestline last night at one of the series of preaching mission services at Forest Lawn Presbyterian church. His text was John 3:36—"He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life."

Rev. Patterson, speaking to a large congregation, made several points that the day of salvation is in the present, that eternal life is in the present tense (he that believeth hath, not will have); heaven is in the present since the Bible says it is within man duty and responsibility are also things of the present.

Rev. J V Cartiker, pastor, will speak tonight at 7:30 and Rev. Patterson again tomorrow night. The services will continue to Easter.

TWO QUIT RACE IN FAVOR OF G. D. NYE

Wooster and Lima Men Won't Seek State Post.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 13—George D. Nye of Waverly, candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general, announced today that two Democrats who had obtained nominating petitions for the office withdrew in his favor.

Nye, a former Pike county common pleas judge, declared that Edward S. Wertz of Wooster and Francis W. Durbin of Lima decided against making the race and urged their followers to support Nye.

Wertz, a former United States district attorney, was appointed to Nye's campaign committee. Durbin, Allen county chairman, announced he would seek the Democratic nomination for congressman-at-large.

Other Democrats who have announced their candidacy or expressed interest in the office include Joseph Heffernan of Youngstown, Harry Halper of Akron, Joseph C. Allen of Columbus, Kenneth B Johnston of Columbus and Edward Lamb of Toledo.

Thomas J. Herbert, Republican incumbent, has announced for renomination.

Supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft for the Republican presidential nomination were reported to be urging him to enter his name in the Ohio preference primary. They contended that although victory in the race would not be binding it might increase Taft's prestige at the national convention.

In Springfield, George E Ash filed as a candidate for the Democratic Seventh district congressional nomination.

In Washington, Sen. Vic Donahey emerged from a White House conference to tell newsmen that he was a "dead fish." President Roosevelt arranged the meeting after expressing the hope that Donahey would change his mind about retiring from politics. Donahey said he might have a statement later, but indicated it would not be made until after Friday's deadline for filing declarations of candidacy.

Kenton DeMolay Boys Think U. S. Should Avoid War

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 13—Members of the Simon Kenton chapter, Order of DeMolay this week had decided ideas about a variety of subjects, a questionnaire submitted to them by leaders revealed.

For instance they were positive, 15 to 9, that the United States could keep out of any European war by tending strictly to her own affairs. Nineteen of the 24 thought there were just as many opportunities for the young man today as there were 20 years ago, one-half of the number thought war was the greatest problem facing the United States although unemployment, labor troubles and the "isms" had their followings.

Seven of the group blamed Adolf Hitler and his personal ambitions for starting the present war in Europe, while Herbert Hoover was recognized as the outstanding American by five votes (only four selected Franklin D. Roosevelt, the country's president, and three thought Secretary of State Cordell Hull the greatest.) They thought recovery of elegibility and diversion to use contraceptives to mankind than any other invention; voted to equalize wealth from their fathers preference to health or wealth, honesty or pleasure, and by a narrow margin, the establishment of a recreation center in preference to any other improvement in Kenton.

Two Primaries Next Month Put Midwest in Spotlight

...AGO, March 13—Two ...al preferences primaries ...th will furnish a tip on ...reference primaries next ... furnish a tip on po... ...nds in an area rich in ...otes — the populous ...ake states.

...e states in the region—Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio ...gan—have a population ...d 25,000,000 and control ... in the electoral column. ...or is well supplied with ...al aspirants. Sen. Ar... Vandenberg of Michigan and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio are candidates for the Republican nomination. Paul V. McNutt of Indiana is prepared to make an active bid for the Democratic nomination if President Roosevelt doesn't want it.

Contests for convention delegates in both major parties are assured in Wisconsin and Illinois. The results are expected to gauge sentiment not only in those states but also in the neighboring ones. All are similar economically, having highly industrialized regions as well as extensive farming territory.

Wisconsin Votes Soon

Wisconsin will pick 24 delegates in its April 2 primary. A week later Illinois will choose 58 delegates, one of the largest blocks in the nation. Ohio's primary comes on May 14. Indiana and Michigan choose delegates at state conventions.

The Wisconsin primary, binding on delegates, will test the relative strength of President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner in the Democratic ranks, and of Senator Vandenberg and Thomas E. Dewey of New York on the Republican ticket.

Dewey is unopposed in the Illinois Republican primary April 9, but Roosevelt and Garner forces are scrambling for Democratic delegates. Garner submitted a certificate of candidacy, but President Roosevelt's name was entered by the Chicago Democratic organization headed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and National Committeeman Patrick A. Nash.

As in the Wisconsin primary, Mr. Roosevelt made no comment about the submission of his name in Illinois.

Illinois delegates are not bound by the primary, but Mayor Kelly has said that the delegation would be President Roosevelt's as long as he wished. Gov. Henry Horner has waged bitter battles with the mayor's group in recent campaigns, but they now are united behind Roosevelt and a slate for state offices. Garner's supporters have pledged a finish fight on the third term issue.

Ohio G. O. P. for Taft

Senator Taft will have Ohio's 52 Republican convention votes. Gov. Bricker remains a "dark horse" candidate for the Republican nomination and an heir to the delegaten in the event of Taft's withdrawal or elimination.

Ohio Democrats are expected to send delegates pledged to National Committeeman Charles Sawyer as a "favorite son" candidate but available for President Roosevelt if the latter seeks the nomination. Sen. Vic Donahey's recent decision to retire jolted party ranks and deprived the party of an outstanding vote-getter.

Senator Vandenberg currently occupies the favorite position among Michigan Republicans, although strong Dewey sentiment exists. She senator's friends are seeking backing for him in two roles—presidential aspirant and candidate for renomination. Leaders in several Democratic camps have agreed to go along with President Roosevelt if he runs again but say that Postmaster General Farley's influence cannot be discounted.

Michigan's 38 delegates will be named at state conventions. The latter may adopt resolutions indorsing individual candidates, but delegates usually consider their obligation discharged after the first vote at a national convention.

In Indiana the Democratic organization has been leading the campaign for McNutt, who is expected to get the state's 28 convention votes if the President is not in the race. The Republican delegation probably will be uninstructed.

COLUMBUS, O., March 13 — Undaunted by their figurative distance from the soil, some 300 Ohio penitentiary prisoners plunged avidly today into correspondence courses on potato culture and kindred subjects.

The students were spurred by the prison's first "commencement" ceremony, at which certificates were awarded to 17 men completing Ohio State university agricultural extension courses.

"Most prisoners have expressed interest in electrical and acetylene welding," said Capt. J. C. DeLong, director of training and education. "But were're limited to farm courses, because they're free."

Studying in cells, without lecture periods, members of the first class were scored from 87 to 97 per cent perfect by university professors.

Nine members of the first class have registered for further instruction, and DeLong predicted the total enrollment would double within three months.

The courses were introduced at the prison in January as part of an expanded rehabilitation program and to augment the prison elementary school which now has nearly 400 pupils and inmate instructors.

Guide for 'Safe' Fighting

This is the kind of reading material you'd be running into if your country were at war. It's the cover of a London magazine full of pictures and problems designed to teach the Englishman what to do when he gets into the front line.

The pictures here show the right and wrong ways of conducting a patrol. It's wrong to let yourself be silhouetted against the sky—that makes you a swell target. It's right to make full use of bushes and any other cover—that minimizes the chances of being ambushed.

Railroads' Vital Place in Nation's Life Shown in Talk to Rotary Club

Erie Official Presents Facts About Importance of Rail Industry in Progress and Prosperity.

The vitally important place occupied by the railroad industry and the tremendous contribution it has made to human progress during the last century provided the subject matter for a talk given to the Marion Rotary club and guests Tuesday by J. W. Graves of Youngstown, assistant general manager of the Erie Railroad Co. He spoke following the club's weekly luncheon at Hotel Harding.

Taking as his theme topic, "Progress, Prosperity and the Railroads," Mr. Graves opened with an account of inauguration of passenger service on the Liverpool and Manchester railway in England in 1830 and followed with facts and figures on the present day scope of the industry, a comparison which strikingly illustrated the magnitude of the development which has taken place in the intervening 110 years.

Included among the figures quoted were some of especial interest to Marion residents. These showed that 1,065 citizens of the community and their families are directly dependent upon the railroads for their livelihood and that the annual railroad payroll is $2,176,000.

Historic Event

Opening of service on the Liverpool and Manchester line was referred to by Mr. Graves as "an outstanding milestone in history, for it heralded the era of the popular use of the steam railroad as a mode of rapid and reliable transportation."

The account of this epochal event, as read by Mr. Graves, was from the pen of Frances Anne Kemble, famous English actress, in a letter written to a friend on Aug. 20, 1830 and published in her "Record of Girlhood" in 1878. She was a guest passenger on this historic first train trip.

As evidence that Miss Kemble and her fellow passengers on that pioneer train had only a faint glimpse of all that was to be achieved in future railroad development, Mr. Graves summarized the modern picture. Here are some of the details he presented:

"As of Jan. 1, 1938 there were 788,672 miles of railway line in the world, and the United States with less than six per cent of the world's land area and less than six per cent of the world's population has more than 30 per cent of the world's railway mileage—238,539 miles, point to point length, and actually operates over 411,324 miles of track.

"There were 39,300 passenger cars in service on Class 1 railways Jan. 1, 1939, 43,810 locomotives and 1,699,689 freight cars with a carrying capacity of 84 million tons.

Huge Investment

"The total rail investment of these Class 1 railways amounts to more than 26 billions of dollars, or nearly $109,000 per mile of line and the net capitalization or securities, etc., in the hands of the public is nearly 18 billions. This covers all roads excepting switching and terminal companies, which is only 70 per cent of the railways' investment in road and equipment.

"There are about 950,000 railway employes on the U. S. roads—over $25,000 invested for each of our jobs.

"In what other ways, other than providing transportation for ourselves and our goods, do the railways contribute to progress and prosperity?

"They buy and use more than 70,000 different things from locomotive to pins, providing jobs for thousands of others on farms, in factories, in mines and in forests.

"They are paying nearly one million dollars each day in taxes—almost 40 and 1-2 cents out of each dollar of net earnings in 1938 and 77.2 per cent of this to state and local governments—29 per cent going to public schools, thereby providing enough money to educate 1,300,000 children each year."

Other details included: about 2,000,000 tons of steel rail normally purchased each year, 25,000,000 meals served annually on dining cars, 15,000,000 tons of ice used each year and 90,000,000 tons of coal.

As evidence of the widespread ownership of the railroads, Mr. Graves said that reports filed with the interstate commerce commission show that there are approximately 871,000 stockholders.

"Should these not be conclusive arguments that the railroads do constitute a vital link in the chain of progress and prosperity—that their welfare directly affects each one of us? What other single industry is so closely associated with each activity of our daily lives?" was a question put by the speaker.

Voicing a protest against subsidizing of other forms of transportation by the government, he told of steps being taken by the railroads to present their case to the public and to seek cooperation and fair treatment.

He said: "The railroads can ask their many friends for but one thing and that is assistance in their efforts to secure equal opportunity to serve them. When this comes — with understanding of our mutual problems—progress and prosperity will speed up."

Once Located Here

Mr. Graves was introduced to his audience by James C. Mann, former Marion Rotarian who is now located in Youngstown as regional claim-agent for the Erie railroad. He related how Mr. Graves started in railroad work 30 years ago as a freight-house clerk and advanced steadily to his present position. In 1922 he lived in Marion while employed in the engineering department of the Erie.

Mr. Mann also introduced several other Erie officials as guests and designated all as men who have worked their way up in the railroad service. They were William Carlson of Meadville, Pa., district master mechanic, Vincent McMullen of Marion, division trainmaster, and Elandes Miller of Marion, chief clerk in the Kent division superintendent's office.

Other guests were J. E. Seandling, chief metallurgist of the Marion Steam Shovel Co., Dr. W. L. Murphy, Cardington Rotarian, and E. F. Gebhart, Columbus Rotarian.

Leap Before You Look

By Peggy O'More

YESTERDAY: Tomi goes to Allen's office to consult him about her budget. When she suggests a salary for Pierre Prudhomme, Allen offers to pay him off with a swift kick.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

Dotty Dougherty

THE flush in Bartell's face grew deeper as he took a night letter from his desk and handed it to her.

Tomi read it, a pleased smile appearing. "Why, this is splendid. Fine character, and he was reared on one of the greatest of all frog farms. I don't see why you took such an attitude towards him?"

"It's what the telegram didn't say," Bartell explained.

"But what else could it say?"

"Aside from giving a cut and dried report, the only human word in it is his nickname, the Shiek."

Tomi's laugh rang out. "Why, Allen Bartell, I believe you're jealous! That's right, Lily did make a play for him, didn't she?"

"Lily!" blurted Bartell, then quieted. "That's an idea," he murmured. "All right, Miss Toland, again you've asked for it. I'm going to comply with everything you've asked for, providing you place an advertisement in the Times-Star for a housekeeper immediately."

Tomi extended her hand, and Bartell met it with a firm clasp. "Friends?" he asked.

"Until we meet next time," agreed Tomi, and left.

She fairly flew to the street. The hotel was only two blocks away, but she must telephone. She did, from a drugstore, then learning Pierre won't meet her there wandered restlessly among the books in the library nook.

No one of the gaily jacketed books held a story as exciting as hers. She could handle Bartell! And without a belaying pin. Some day, perhaps, she could make him sit up and beg.

Prudhomme appeared, matched Tomi's gay spirit with his own, and they hurried to place a housekeeper advertisement in the newspaper, then stopped next door at Ole's to drink to their success, in coffee. Tucked away in a booth, secure from curious eyes, Tomi felt they were arch conspirators.

"I'm surprised and relieved," Pierre confessed. "I didn't think Bartell would come through."

"Why?" asked Tomi.

"Well, after all, that ten thousand was a gift to him. The less he spends, the less he loses, providing you don't win out in the end."

Tomi's eyes were wide. "How did you know about the will and the terms?" she asked.

Pierre shrugged. "I get around," he explained. "The will was pretty thoroughly discussed by the newspapers, wasn't it?"

"I wouldn't know," mused Tomi thoughtfully. She hadn't read the western newspapers.

"You don't mind my knowing this?" Pierre asked, blue eyes anxiously surveying her. "I want to be a real help to you. I'd like to see a girl like you win out against that—against such heavy odds," he corrected. "I think it's sporting of you to accept the challenge."

Tomi warmed to the young man. Then he too had seen the will as a challenge.

"Tell me, as a rusticulturist, what chance have I of winning?" she asked.

"I could say every chance in the world," he returned. "I'm not going to. You have an even chance. The farm is run down. You have no established markets. You can always sell the canneries, but not at the top market price, as you'll have to consider the shipping.

"You have one thing in your favor—the time. However, that will be of more advantage next year than this. And I am confident that I can help you materially. First, I'll have to learn more of the climate conditions. I'll go to the weather bureau tomorrow and check average daily temperatures."

"But what have temperatures to do with frogs?"

"Everything. Frogs are fussy, as your Old Abe says. If it's too cold, they go down and delay the spawning season. If it's too hot, they deteriorate so their meat becomes stringy and flabby."

Tomi laughed. "Don't tell me you are going to do something about the weather."

Zooming Spirits

Pierre laughed with her. "But I am. Your pools are shallow, not like the deep baycus in the South where the frogs can find the temperature they want. I can build shelters, plant vines and shrubs to give them shade and to shade the pools."

He talked on of the changes he would make and Tomi, listening, rejoiced at having found him. He was going to be well worth his salary. And then she wondered at him accepting a salary as low as the one she was offering.

"Why did you take this position?" she asked abruptly.

Pierre smiled at her. "Because I wanted to see what I could do. I'm like an architect who finds an old, well-built house and wants to bring it up to date. My father's farm is definitely his. But then you know the French."

Tomi was satisfied. He helped her into her car, then stood, hat lifted while she drove away. He would "bunk" with Old Abe after the housekeeper was installed. Until then he'd remain at the hotel.

And now Tomi's spirits zoomed and circled with the silver-winged ships. Of course she didn't agree with Pierre. Allen wouldn't withhold money she needed. He wanted to win, but he'd win honestly. And there, the acacias had burst into bloom while she was in town! Or had she been too preoccupied that morning to notice?

She left the car standing in the driveway and ran to the nearest tree to stand for a moment under the shower of bloom and look up through the brown limbs to the mass of gold. She spied a mass of freesias and plucked them with the greedy hand of a city child. Hers! And snowdrops, white bells with tiny flecks of green.

"This place has to be mine," she whispered.

But what had Allen said? "Again, I say, you're asking for it."

She hadn't liked his tone. He had used that tone twice before, and both times she had regretted her decision. But both times, everything had turned out all right.

She liked Pierre better for being honest with her. He could have promised to perform a miracle with the farm and she would have believed him, knowing so little about frog farming.

The next three weeks were periods of chaos, interspersed with periods of sheer joy. Only the absence of word from the family dimmed the brightness of it.

Pierre and Abe, clad in overalls, excavated pools and lined them with cement. It seemed to Tomi there was always a truck at the door, with a driver awaiting payment. Payment for lumber for the sheds, for the shelters, for the new bunk-house the two men were erecting.

And there were men under her feet, men putting in telephone wires and electric light wires.

The first three days there were women of all kinds and descriptions calling at her door in answer to the advertisement and, with their appearance, Allen Bartell was bound to "just drop in."

None of these prospective housekeepers suited Tomi. Some whined, some chattered incessantly, some spoke of the world going to the dogs.

And then came Dotty. Tomi loved her on sight. She was whilehaired, fat and full of chuckles.

'Too Ambitious'

"I don't need this job," she confessed to Tomi. "It's an alternative. This, of living with my daughter. Gladys Elsie thinks everyone past fifty should wear bonnets that tie under their chins, and sing psalms while they're washing dishes. I sing hi-dee-ho and get through quicker."

Tomi was delighted. Here was a kindred soul revolting from a daughter's domination as she had revolted against Great-aunt Hannah's. She forgot the questions she had put to the other applicants —qualifications, salary and references.

"When can you start?" she asked.

"Right now," answered the woman promptly. "I can send for my bags."

"We'll drive over after them," Tomi promised. "By the way, it might be advisable to ask your name."

"Dotty," chuckled the new housekeeper. "Dorothy Dougherty is too much for any man's tongue."

Tomi nodded. "Just one more question. Do you know Allen Bartell?"

"Know him!" cried Mrs. Dougherty. "I raised him from a pup. Why, what's the matter?"

Tomi sat down and sighed deeply. "I might have known there was a catch in it. So he sent you here."

"Allen sent me here?" echoed Mrs. Dougherty. "Are you crazy, or am I? He caused me to lose my last position. He's Gladys Elsie's attorney, which would be enough, only he doesn't like me. You see, my dear, I was a trained nurse. The stork arrived before the doctor, and I had the pleasure of spanking the breath of life into Allen Bartell. It was such a pleasure I kept on spanking him whenever I had the opportunity.

"Not that I mean to say anything against he boy. But he has two qualities I don't like. He's too ambitious, and he's spoiled. That charm of his. He has it trained so he can turn it off and on like an electric lamp. Young girls dither over him, and old girls—well, this town is full of wealthy old women and ninety per cent of the change their wills every other day just to have Allen smile at them. Bah!"

Tomi stood up and walked restlessly back and forth. "About the ambition?" she prompted.

"Ambition," echoed Mrs. Dougherty. "Well, of course every young man has that. Allen's seems to run to land. He'd sooner have a slice of land than a fat fee. Probably because he was reared in a hotel. He has a prune ranch in Sonoma County, a walnut grove at Arano, a summer camp on the Eel River, all given him as fees. Old Timothy—say, he was your uncle, wasn't he?"

Tomi swallowed and nodded. "Great-uncle."

But Mrs. Dougherty would say no more about Timothy and Allen Bartell. "I've talked too much already," she protested. "I suppose I've talked myself out of the job. Oh, well," she chuckled, "maybe I can make a human being out of my daughter."

"But Dotty," Tomi protested, she too could turn on charm, as she smiled down into the friendly face. "I want you here with me, for so many reasons. I need a real friend as well as a housekeeper. Old Abe is one, but there are things he doesn't understand."

Mrs. Dougherty was up and alert. "Let's see my room. Say, Miss Toland—all right, Tomi—do you mind a cat, a Scotch terrier and five goldfish?"

Continued tomorrow.

Eire's Neutrality Amusing Even To Her Own People

DUBLIN, March 13 — (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Ireland's (Eire's) state of neutrality in the current war is a source of both pride and amusement to its citizens.

In the first place, it's unique for southern Ireland to be neutral in a war involving Great Britain. For centuries the Irish have been fighting with or against the British.

Now this state that calls itself a free and independent nation maintains officially it has no sympathy with either side in the present conflict. Despite deep-seated grievances that still exist here, however, most people concede that the majority of Ireland's public sympathies with the British-French causes — or, as some put it, opposes dictatorships.

Eire's neutrality is one of paradoxes and oddities. The government of Prime Minister Eamon De Valera tries hard to show complete impartiality in the war, but physical factors keep throwing up obstacles.

Nazi Minister There

The German minister, Edward Hempel still functions in Dublin yet he is a lonely figure. If he attends any public functions, he is almost certain to encounter the British representative, Sir John Maffey, or some other British figure. He has difficulty communicating with his government, for cable communication between Eire and Germany goes through London.

Eire has a legation in Berlin, now headed by a charge d'affaires. The post of minister became vacant by coincidence, just before the outbreak of the war. A new minister is said to have been chosen, but the appointment has never been announced.

Ireland has no mercantile marine or navy, thus is dependent upon Britain for its trade and sea protection.

The two countries fought a bitter trade war which was settled two years ago, but high-tariff duties still exist between them. Women of Ireland pay as much duty on a dress from London as on one from New York.

Striking Contrast

The contrast between Eire and northern Ireland, the latter still a part of Britain and thus allied with her in the war, is striking. The night train from Belfast to Dublin, for instance, runs with dim blue lights and drawn blinds until it reaches the Eire border—then the lights go on and the blinds go up. Belfast is blacked out like London.

Dublin had a brief taste of the blackout at the beginning of the war—apparently at the behest of the British who feared the lights might serve as a guide for German aircraft seeking Britain. But the public grumbled and the lights came back on, though street lamps now are fitted with cowls to minimize the glare.

To travel direct from Britain to Eire requires a British exit permit. None is required to go from northern to southern Ireland, and when the Belfast blackout becomes too trying, residents take a run down to Dublin for a bright week-end. Customs inspection is maintained at the border, but it is not rigid.

People of Eire look across the border into northern Ireland, congratulate themselves on being outside the war, smile amusedly at their own type of neutrality, and wonder if it can last.

Think Britain Satisfied

Most persons apparently think it can. They say Britain is well satisfied to have Eire neutral, so long as Eire cooperates in supplies and keeps in check those elements which would take advantage of the war to make difficulties for Britain over the Irish partition question.

Some persons suspect, however, that German funds find their way into the I. R. A., active anti-British agitators for partition.

Gasoline is the only rationed. That is because dependent upon Britain for sources of supply. Eire own supplies of butter and now refines a major its own sugar.

Irish newspapers as ship difficulties as great greater than those in Britain censorship is called rigid the papers have to be what they print, many of them go into Ireland or Britain.

This all goes to make neutrality.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Cornea Grafting

I AM ASKED, "Have the operations for transplantation of healthy eye tissue into blinded eye tissue been successful?"

Sometimes they are completely successful, sometimes moderately successful, even in good hands.

The only cases in which the operation is tried are those where the cornea, the clear window in the front of the eye, is made opaque by inflammation and scar tissue. The opaque tissue is replaced by a transplant of clear corneal tissue from a healthy eye.

It is a rule that in order to "take," transplants must come from an animal of the same species. Therefore, the eye surgeon cannot use the cornea from one of the lower animals. It must come from another human.

Where does the eye surgeon find such tissue? We have sentimental newspaper stories of a mother who is willing to give her eye for her blinded baby, but such sacrifices are not necessary. There are many blind people whose blindness is due to disease at the back of the eye. These eyes must come out, but the front, the cornea, is perfectly healthy. Such are the donors the eye surgeons use.

farmer in Marion county be visited before May 1 farm reporters in connection with the county AAA ...'s efforts to enlist participation in the federal program. ... must sign the "farm ... participation" by May 1 ... to participate in the program and thus share in cash payments and other benefits, it was announced today.

... Harper, county AAA ..., said the reporters will ... the various options which ... may take under the program and also the soil-building practices recommended this year.

... farmer will know in advance what his allotment will be for each commodity and will then be able to plan his farming operations more satisfactorily," he said.

He advised multiple land owners that a farm plan must be signed either by the owner or operator for every farm before that farm becomes eligible for 1940 ... payments.

This year, as last, farmers will be advised of the maximum payments which they can receive for their participation.

Mr. Harper solicited the cooperation of farmers with the AAA officers, commenting that it will assist materially in getting conservation payments distributed at an early date.

Present indications are that Marion county will rank high in participation in the program, Mr. Harper said.

FRANCOIS VIBERT: "Of course I'm a marked man."

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, Switzerland—Strangers who visit the corridors of the League of Nations Palace during assembly of council sessions, when they're crowded with diplomats, are almost certain to ask first about a portly, bespectacled man with an unusually long and unusually luxurious black beard.

"That," they are told, "is the chief of the secret police of the Canton and Republic of Geneva."

Francois Vibert, chief of the secret agents watching over the lives and persons of every famed diplomat who sets foot in Geneva, sees nothing strange in his beard and his job.

Impressive

"Of course I'm a marked man," he said. "I want to be. If I'm around people notice me and perhaps the sight of me will change their minds about doing silly things.

"And when I'm not around one of my agents are. They don't all wear beards."

In the 20 years of the League's existence at Geneva there has never been a single attempt made on the life of any of the delegates—and the delegates have included presidents, premiers and foreign ministers of many of the League's 52 members.

Vibert has been on the force most of that time, but he has been chief only three years. At 41 he's comparatively young for the job. During important League meetings he has scores of men at his command.

Even without his beard, Vibert would be a unique secret police chief. As becomes the brother of a famed Swiss painter, Pierre-Eugene Vibert, who died recently, and of a famed Swiss sculptor, James Vibert, the police chief is an art lover.

Helps Artists

His office looks like a small art gallery. The entire headquarters of the secret police is beginning to look like a museum, for Vibert has been buying the works of needy Swiss artists who have no other market during the war.

War or no war, Vibert, a former lawyer, jumps into his American-built car and drives off with his 20-year-old son and 16-year-old daughter and his wife to their country home just across the border in France every week-end.

"That is every week-end save when there are diplomats in Geneva," Vibert said. "Then I stay in Geneva knocking on wood."

SENATOR NYE TO GIVE TALK AT OHIO WESLEYAN

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, O., March 13—U. S. Senator Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota will speak March 28 at Ohio Wesleyan university.

He will be one of the speakers at the first of a series of conferences on "America and Her Foreign Policies," according to the announcement made by Miss Abbie Probasco, assistant to President Herbert J. Burgstahler.

Senator Nye will first be heard from the chapel platform at the morning chapel services. He will be one of several prominent men who will take part in a panel discussion from 3 to 5 p. m. At night he will address a mass meeting in the chapel. All events of the conference will be open to the general public.

MEETING POSTPONED

The Meeker school Parent-Teacher association meeting scheduled for Thursday night has been postponed to March 21 because of the concert by Miss Margaret Speaks at the Palace theater, officers announced today. At the March 21 meeting the seventh and eighth grade chorus will sing, the melody band of the third and fourth grades will play and a minstrel show will be presented by a group of young men of Agosta. There will be a discussion of health problems of school children.

Social Affairs

MISS RUTH ELLEN MOUNTS was elected president of El Dorado Literary club for the 1940-41 season at a meeting last evening with Miss Mary Katherine Hogan of 201 Bellefontaine avenue.

Those elected to serve with Miss Mounts are Mrs. William Stonebreaker, vice president; Miss Hogan, secretary, and Miss Irene Cunningham, treasurer. A program committee was elected consisting of Miss Margaret Topliff, chairman, Miss Katherine Clark and Miss Barbara Fralich.

Tuesday, April 23, was set as the date for the club's annual guest day meeting.

The novel, "Escape," by Ethel Vance, was reviewed by Miss Esther Topliff. A report of the federation luncheon was given by Miss Dorothy Hanson and a report of the recent visit of the state president, Mrs. Chauncey Newcomer of Bryan, O., was given by Miss Martha Miller.

THE founder's day dinner party of Iota chapter of Pi Omicron sorority was given last evening at Hotel Harding. On the hostess committee were Mrs. C. J. Altmaier, Mrs. Bertha Snyder, Miss Regina Lawler and Miss Enid Little.

A talk, "The Romance of Music," was given by Mrs. J. W. Baker. Bingo was played, honors going to Mrs. Gladys Keller, Mrs. Florence Dixon and Miss Ethel Fay Laucher.

A BOARD meeting of the Marion Garden club will precede the club's joint guest meeting with the Marion Art club at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Hotel Harding ballroom. The board will meet at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Roa Higgin of Toledo will speak on "The Line of Beauty Is Everywhere," dealing principally with the arts and crafts of Scandinavia. She will show an exhibit from her collection of articles brought from abroad.

Mrs. Floyd Yenger was leader of the discussion period which followed a luncheon meeting of Gamma chapter of the Delphian society yesterday noon at Hotel Harding.

Rudyard Kipling's "Voice of Empire" was the chief topic.

An Easter Sunday morning breakfast at Hotel Harding, a guest meeting in the near future and a special event at the end of the club year were discussed by Mar-Bu-Col club members at a meeting last evening with Miss Mary Reber of 337 Girard avenue. Miss Margaret Brown was a guest.

Awards in cards went to Mrs. Clarence Briggs and Miss Ruth McAdow. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Birthday anniversaries of Mrs. Lizzie Thomas and Mrs. Orlo Hatch were celebrated with a pot-luck dinner Sunday at the home of the former on Fountain street. Decorations for the table included three birthday cakes. Present with the celebrants were Mr. and Mrs. William Dunn of Richwood, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Robinson of Edison, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunn and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Hanning, Mr. and Mrs. T. Thomas and family, Miss Nellie Welker and T. R. Shaw.

Mrs. C. A. Hudson of East Center street was hostess last evening to the Woman's Century club.

The program theme, "Social Background of Our Own Times," was presented in phases in papers by Miss Olga Morgenthaler, chairman, Mrs. J. Malcolm Strelitz and Mrs. W. B. Tway. In the absence of Mrs. Strelitz and Mrs. Tway their papers were read by Mrs. Harold Alexander and Mrs. J. R. Smith.

Mrs. Martin Whittington was given a surprise potluck supper party last evening at her home at 461 North Prospect street in observance of her birthday anniversary. The party was arranged by her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Graff.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Whittington and children Sarah and Lowell, Mrs. Ethel DeBolt and Mr. and Mrs. Graff and sons Charles and Ollis.

An induction service on April 4 was arranged at a called meeting of Beta chapter of the Gradale sorority last evening at the Y. M. C. A.

The members voted on new members and a sponsor.

Miss Iscah Cook, Maynard Snyder To Be Married

THE approaching marriage of Miss Iscah Cook, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Lowell A. Cook of 196 North Seffner avenue, and Maynard Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Snyder of 278 Pennsylvania avenue, was announced last evening when Miss Cook, assisted by Miss Virginia Jackson, entertained the Westminster guild of Forest Lawn Presbyterian church.

The wedding will take place on Sunday, March 31, at the Forest Lawn church.

Little Misses Roberta Cramer, dressed as a bridegroom, and Beverly Cook, dressed as a bride, entered the front door while Mrs. Cook played Lohengrin's "Wedding March" and presented the announcement to Miss Jackson, the guild's new president.

Devotions were in charge of Mrs Hazel Williamson. Mrs. Jane Jones, past president, installed officers for the year. The lesson story, "Forgotten Americans," from the book, "Right Here at Home," was presented by Mrs. Phyllis Martin.

A guessing contest was won by Miss Mary Tolle. The hostess and Miss Jackson served refreshments.

Marriage Meddlers

Spencer Reveals Leslie Sent Emerald to Prove He Has Olga's Necklace.

AT LILLIAN'S enthusiastic declaration, my father smiled indulgently at her.

"Thank you, my dear," he said. "I wish your compliment may be justified. Just at present, I confess, I have nothing in mind. Needless to say, Noel and Mary will never be permitted within reach of Leslie's hands — or marksmanship. But in some way I am going to make him believe that they have been delivered to him, and that our farm is defenseless. And, of course, the first step is to find out just what Leslie's own plan is. That was the reason for my message."

He took a sip of water from a glass on a table beside him, and went on.

"Do not fear that I am overdoing," he said. "I am almost through. Before I consider this problem at all, I am going to sleep for an hour or two. I wish you would all think it over, and when I call you together again, I wish you would give me the benefit of any suggestions you have. I shall need them all, I am afraid."

Wanted: An Idea

"You know that's purely rhetorical, Chief," Lillian said audaciously. "When you waken, you'll have everything mapped out. But of course we're all going to rack our respective alleged brains, and tell you any crazy ideas we may evolve. But tell me before I die of curiosity: Did Leslie send you any proof that he has the necklace?"

"He sent me one of the emeralds," my father said. "I have knowledge enough of gems to be certain that it was not an imitation stone, and because of Queen Olga's revelations of her secret markings upon the stones, I was able to ascertain— of course without the man's knowledge—that it really was a part of the famous necklace. I handed it back to him with the comment that I was satisfied, for just now it is vitally important that Jack Leslie be convinced that he has fooled me completely."

He put his head back wearily against his pillow and closed his eyes.

Last Rehearsal

"If you will send Miss Whitlock to me now," he said, "I shall be grateful. But please keep yourselves free for a consultation with me after I awake from my nap."

We filed out silently, and sent in the competent nurse whose ministrations my father had first rejected, then found indispensable. Then I turned to the rest of them tensely.

"I mustn't wait a minute before getting hold of Mary and putting her through that last rehearsal—our own version." I spoke the last words in a lowered voice. "Then I shall be free when father wants me."

"All right, beat it," Dicky said good-humoredly. "We'll hold the fort and send word to you when you're wanted."

"Don't you dare!" I retorted. "Not even for Father will I cut short this last rehearsal with Mary. I will come back to you the second I'm finished, but if he wants me before then—"

"It will be just too bad," my husband gibed, especially for the poor goat"—he pointed dramatically to himself—"who will have to break the news to Dad. But blessings on thee, little lass."

Secrecy Advised

"Don't pay any attention to the ravings of an idiot," Lillian advised, leading me down the hall. But when we were out of sight and earshot of our men, she pulled me into her own room and shut the door.

"Tell me this," she said, keeping her voice low. "Where are you going to stage this rehearsal with Mary?"

Something significant in her voice made me pause before I answered her. Then inspiration came to me.

"In the rooms which Katie and Jim have over the kitchen," I said.

"Good!" she commended. "Then there'll be no possible chance of dear little Olina overhearing you. We'll give her the benefit of the doubt that she wouldn't spill the beans to her prospective step-papa, but I think you're wise to take no chances on her possible indiscretion."

"I'm glad you approve," I said sincerely. "And now I must go and awaken Mary."

She snatched at my sleeve and caught me securely.

"Not so fast!" she said. "Have either of you had anything to eat since breakfast?"

PROSPECT COUPLE WED IN RITES AT JEFFERSONVILLE

Miss Esther Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Fox of Prospect and James R. Gast, son of Mrs. Ray L. Gast of Prospect, were united in marriage yesterday morning at 10:45 o'clock in Jeffersonville, O. The single ring service was read at the Methodist parsonage by Rev. E. R. Rector, former pastor of the Prospect Methodist church.

Miss Betty Gast, sister of the bridegroom, and Oscar Fox, brother of the bride, were attendants. Miss Dorothy Fox, sister of the bride, was present. The bride wore a street length dress of poudre blue crepe with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Miss Gast was in dusty pink crepe with hat and accessories of the same shade, and wore a corsage of blue sweet peas.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Gast are graduates of Prospect High school. Mrs. Gast is employed as a clerk at the Kroger store. Mr. Gast is engaged in farming. The couple will live on a farm east of Prospect.

THREE STAR CLUB MEETS AT GALION TEA ROOM

Mrs. Charles McCally of Marion, the former Miss Jean Brillhart, was presented a gift of crystal ware from the Three Star club, women employes of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. in this district, at a dinner meeting last evening at Mrs. Beemiller's tea room in Galion. Miss Bertha Coldwell and Miss Berthe Chacopulos of Galion were hostesses.

Present from Marion were Mrs McCally, Mrs. Bry Gibson, Miss Leota Click and Miss Esther Reissinger.

The group was seated at two long tables, each of which was centered with a large bouquet of spring flowers in pastel shades, from which emerged tiny tapers also in pastel colors. Place favors were individual chocolate Easter eggs with the member's name.

A dance in April, in charge of Miss Chek of Marion, Miss Chacopulos of Galion and Miss Donna Ruth Obenour of Mansfield, was arranged for in a business session in charge of the president, Miss Helen Drushal of Mansfield. The annual week-end club party in May was discussed.

The evening was spent playing bridge, honors going to Miss Jerry Mowry of Mansfield and Miss Opal Crone of Ashland. Mrs. McCally and Miss Reissinger will entertain the club in Marion on April 9.

Altrusa Club To Buy Incubator For City Hospital

PURCHASE of an incubator for the Marion City hospital nursery was voted by the Marion Altrusa club last evening when Mrs. Silva Patten entertained at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Myers of East Center street.

A partial payment on the equipment will be made with funds from redeemed sales tax stamps collected by the club members. The club will continue to collect the stamps to make further payments.

The civic committee, of which Mrs A. M. Hutchinson is chairman, was in charge of the program.

Two committees were appointed, one the nominating committee composed of Miss Jessie Lindsay, chairman, Mrs Patten and Miss Marian Conley, and the other an election committee of Miss Edna Rhodes, chairman, Mrs. Hutchinson and Miss Eloise Tschanen. Refreshments were served in a social hour.

Jules Barnett of the Northwestern School of Commerce at Lima will speak on "Analysis of Handwriting" at a dinner meeting March 26 at 6:45 o'clock at Hotel Harding.

Arrangements For Inspection Made by Marion Bethel

ARRANGEMENTS for semi-annual inspection on March 26, and a barn dance on Saturday evening, April 6, occupied the business meeting of Marion Bethel of Job's Daughters last evening at Masonic temple.

Mrs. Clara Wege of Columbus, grand guardian, will conduct the inspection, which will be preceded by a 6 o'clock dinner. The dinner will be in charge of Jean Dixon, Maxine Buettin, Donna Williams, Eleanor Bowser and Barbara Caldwell.

The following committees were named for the barn dance, which will be for members and guests: decorations, Phyllis Tierney, Donna Aull, Marjory Callahan, Marjorie Bindley and Marcia Brock; program, Iris Erow, Dorothy Rinehart, Janet Curl, Susan Shealy and Shirley Pierce; music, Miriam Linder.

The members will attend services at one of the Marion churches on Sunday morning, March 31. In May there will be a mother-daughter banquet and some time in the spring members of Sandusky bethel will be entertained.

TORNADO KILLS 13 IN SOUTH

Seven Injured and Hundreds Homeless in Shreveport, La., Storm.

By The Associated Press

SHREVEPORT, La., March 13 —Thirteen persons were killed, at least seven injured and hundreds left homeless by tornadic winds that struck hardest in Shreveport yesterday and then moved across the border into Texas.

Estimates of Sloan J. Flores estimated that damage in Shreveport was more than $1,000,000. Libby-Owens-Ford glass officials counted their loss at $250,000. The state fair estimated damage was estimated at $100,000.

The storm, accompanied by heavy rain, caused most damage in Shreveport residential areas before striking across the open area between Fields and Bethany, Tex. Several hundred Shreveport homes were damaged.

Among the dead was T. K Roberts, 71, Shreveport capitalist and property owner, who was killed when a Negro tenant house collapsed on him as he sought to enter his automobile.

Nine other persons killed in Shreveport were: John M. Bauman, about 35; Mrs. John M. Bauman, Mrs. Hettie Armstrong, 45; J. D. Woodyard, 62; the wife, two grandchildren and grandchild of Pat McKinney, 38, Negro; and an unidentified Negro.

Mrs. Banks Roberts, 65, was killed at Elysian fields when her home collapsed. Her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Hightower, and Mrs. Hightower's 18-month-old daughter, were injured. Two Negroes were reported killed between Elysian Fields and Bethany.

National guardsmen were called out immediately to prevent looting of homes. They were joined by CCC camp enrollees and volunteers in the search for victims. The Red Cross stepped in to aid the needy.

ROOSEVELT SLATE WINS IN PRIMARY

Groundwork for "Draft Roosevelt" Move Seen in Vote.

By The Associated Press

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 13 —Political groundwork for a possible "draft-Roosevelt" movement at the Democratic national convention was laid in New Hampshire today as the nation's first 1940 primary election gave the Chief Executive a full slate of delegates pledged to a third term.

Eight delegates at large and four district delegates, all committed to the President's renomination, were elected yesterday with the backing of a majority of the state's Democratic leaders, and, under New Hampshire law, must vote for him at the convention until he gives them a formal release.

The rank and file of the Democratic party ignored protests against a third term and passed over alternative standard bearers, with the result that three candidates pledged to Postmaster General James A. Farley, one to Vice President Garner, and three unpledged ran well behind the favorite slate.

The granite state Republicans elected an unpledged delegation in accord with Senator Styles Bridges' aspirations for the G. O. P. presidential nomination.

Bridges, Senator Charles W. Tobey and former U. S. Senator George H. Moses, a veteran of five Republican conventions dating back to 1900, captured three of the places.

PLOT TO BLAST PEN WALL IS UNCOVERED

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, March 13—Police claim to have uncovered a plot to dynamite Western State penitentiary's north wall and open an escape path to freedom for 600 inmates.

Deputy Inspector Walter Steffen reported routine questioning of a paroled convict disclosed the scheme which prison officials said was fantastic and could not have been carried out successfully. An effort to blast the wall failed in 1924.

Steffen said 30-year-old Ray McNaughton, picked up at a tavern, had in his possession a letter from an inmate which was written on prison stationery and contained plans for the break.

Couple Wed 66 Years Honored at Wife's Ninetieth Birthday Party

MR. AND MRS. JEREMIAH YOUNKINS —Photo by Stein

One of Marion county's few couples to reach the age of 90 together and to have celebrated their sixty-sixth wedding anniversary are Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Younkins of 293 East Fairground street.

Last evening there was a party at their home to celebrate Mrs. Younkins' ninetieth birthday anniversary, which is today. Guests included 30 close friends and neighbors who attended a similar party last July 5 when Mr. Younkins reached his ninetieth anniversary. A large decorated birthday cake was a feature of the refreshments. The time was spent socially.

Although she was too young to have any interest in a voyage to America, Mrs. Younkins has an unforgetiable picture of shipwreck at sea, life on an uninhabited island near Canada and the rescue of her family party from graphic stories told many, many times by her parents.

Sail from Ireland

William Hogan and his wife Catherine, their children, John, Pat, Will, Dan, Nona, Mary and Margaret, now Mrs. Younkins, and Mr. Hogan's niece, together with others seeking a new home, left Ireland for the promised land of America. Mrs. Younkins was three months old. Off the coast of Canada the sail boat hit a rock and sank. Because the boat filled slowly all passengers except one were rescued in small boats and taken to a small uninhabited island off the coast of Canada. Mrs. Younkins, the family related, was carried off the ship by her mother who had placed her in an apron, took the corners of it in her mouth and climbed over the side of the boat. All their household goods were lost.

After a time in Canada the Hogan family came to the United States and lived near Caledonia.

Married 66 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Younkins were married in Urbana, O., 66 years ago on Feb. 3, and came to Marion shortly afterwards. They have always lived at their present home site but not in the same house. Their first home was a two-room dwelling built when the area was densely wooded. Later they built a five room house and when their present 10-room house was built 40 years ago the five room house was moved to the back of the lot. Mr. Younkins, an expert cabinet maker, did much of the work on the three homes and has been engaged to do the woodwork in some of Marion's finest old homes.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Younkins are members of St. Mary Catholic church and Mrs. Younkins is a member of the Altar society.

They have two children, Mrs. Nona Kling of 643 Ballentine avenue, and William at home, and three grandchildren, Mrs. Katherine Stout of Chicago, Mary and Edward at the home.

Mrs. Younkins was born in County Tipperary, Ireland, and her husband was born in West Moreland county, Pennsylvania. He has one brother, Jacob, of Indiana, Pa., who is here for the birthday celebration. Six brothers and seven sisters are dead. Mrs. Younkins is the last of a family of nine children.

Ice Disrupts Travel in Marion Area

will be followed by colder weather tomorrow, according to the forecast. Dr. E. F. Raffensperger, Marion weather observer, reported that temperatures ranged from a maximum of 39 degrees to a minimum of 29 yesterday as compared to a high of 52 degrees and a low of 27 a year ago. Only .05 of an inch of rain fell during the 24-hour period ending at 8 a. m. today, he reported.

The formation of ice on streets, highways, automobiles and virtually everything else exposed to the elements started about 8 o'clock last night following a light rain. Later in the night the icy conditions on roads grew steadily worse, the state patrol reported.

Virtually all buses scheduled through here were from one to seven hours behind schedule with the exception of buses coming from the south, employes of the Union bus depot reported.

Many Buses Halted

All southbound Greyhound buses were halted at Toledo following the accident near Carey and northbound buses going through Marion went north only as far as Upper Sandusky and Bucyrus, it was reported. However, bus company officials said they expected to resume a normal schedule this afternoon.

Two westbound buses on New York City to Chicago runs were halted for several hours in Mansfield when the state highway department banned driving on Route 30-S between Galion and Mansfield because of the ice. One of these buses was due in Marion at 3 a. m. but did not arrive until 10:40 a. m., the bus company reported. An eastbound Chicago to New York City bus had difficulty between Indianapolis, Ind., and Marion and was about seven hours late arriving here.

Wrecking cars operated by Nick's garage and the Scioto Trails garage were kept busy most of the night pulling cars out of ditches. The Scioto Trails wrecker pulled out three cars on Route 4 around midnight while a wrecker crew from Nick's garage pulled out seven cars on Routes 4 and 23. Several other motorists reported their cars skidded off highways but that they were able to get back on the road without assistance. Apparently the only damage resulting from any of these mishaps was scratched or slightly dented fenders.

Wyandot, Hardin Counties Hit

In several counties northwest of Marion, conditions apparently were worse than here.

In Wyandot county, schools were closed for the day when the state highway department prohibited travel by school buses because of the icy roads, The Associated Press reported. Scores of motorists spent the night in Upper Sandusky rather than risk travel over roads lined with ditched cars and trucks.

In Hardin county, roads were perilous and schools were as much as an hour late in opening this morning because schedules of school buses were slowed down, a news report from Kenton stated.

Taxi companies here reported they were unusually busy this morning from about 7 to 8 o'clock because business men, shop workers and teachers were reluctant to risk driving to work. One company reported it was seven or eight calls behind for several hours because of the heavy volume of business and because icy streets made it necessary for their drivers to travel at low speeds.

TROOPS CALLED OUT IN ROW OVER DAM

By The Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 13 —Gov. Leon C. Phillips looked to the National Guard today for aid in his fight over the $20,000,000 Grand river dam.

The pugnacious, red-headed governor, ardent advocate of state's rights, declared he would place martial law in effect at the hydro-electric project and prevent closing the last unfinished gap in the dam.

Phillips seeks $850,000 reimbursement for state lands, roads and bridges which would be inundated with the flooding of the reservoir.

National guard units were mobilized at Tulsa and Tahlequah and moved to a concentration point at Wagoner, about 60 miles from the dam site.

Phillips decision for a showdown with the public works administration and the Grand river dam authority was reached after the GRDA failed to heed a final warning: "I'm not kidding."

Ray McNaughton, GRDA chairman, advised Phillips he had tried unsuccessfully for assurances from the PWA that Oklahoma would be reimbursed.

MAYOR FACES CHARGE OF RESISTING OFFICER

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O., March 13—Mayor Mack D. Cook of nearby Courtland, will face the Trumbull county grand jury on charges of resisting an officer.

Constable Noah Yancy of Bazetta township charges the mayor hid an automobile on which Yancy sought to attach an execution. Mayor Cook posted $2,000 bond after pleading innocent.

TRAGEDY MARS WEDDING

By The Associated Press

XENIA, O., March 13—A wedding trip ended in tragedy yesterday for Mr. and Mrs. Sam Trunzo of Cleveland. Several hours after their marriage in Covington, Ky., Trunzo, 38, was killed in an automobile-train collision at nearby Selma. His bride, the former Marian Grace Hagerman of Cleveland, was taken to a Springfield hospital with head injuries.

STATE TO STUDY RELIEF PROBLEMS IN MARION

Director Also Plans Delaware, Hardin Co. Conferences.

Marion city and county officials have been summoned to meet with Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood in Columbus next Tuesday to discuss the relief problem here, The Associated Press reported today.

Director Sherwood is holding a series of conferences with officials from throughout the state. A conference with Delaware and Delaware county officials has been set for March 25 and another with Hardin county officials has been scheduled for March 29, the news report stated.

TWO HURT IN CRASH IN WYANDOT COUNTY

Automobiles Collide As Rain Obscures Vision.

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, March 13 —Two men were injured, one seriously, when their automobiles met in a near-headon collision three miles north of here on the Tiffin road last night just after the rain began to fall. Poor visibility was believed to have contributed to the cause of the accident.

Friel Ulrich, 25, of Mifflin township is in Bucyrus City hospital, suffering from a severe brain concussion, fractured left leg, broken jaw and cuts. It was also reported his skull may have been fractured. He has been unconscious almost since the accident. He was taken to the hospital in the Bringman & Co. ambulance.

David Thomas, 22, of east of here suffered a broken nose and minor cuts and bruises and was treated by a local physician.

Deputy Sheriff Fred L. Jonas, who investigated, said the accident happened as Mr. Ulrich, going north, attempted a turn into a side road in front of the southbound Thomas car.

Both were were alone.

No other accidents were reported here despite the iciness of the highways last night. Salem school was closed today and no Upper Sandusky school buses went out.

But Miss Speaks does not stop with including in her program songs that are familiar, she takes the trouble to search out songs which are not heard every day. "For instance," she writes, "I know my audience wants to hear something of a certain composer, I know that this composer has written many beautiful songs which are scarcely known. I try to include some of these in my program hoping to bring to my listeners some of the pleasure they gave me when I first discovered them."

It is often said that Margaret Speaks does more conscientious research for building her program than any singer in New York.

To Repeat Earlier Program

When Miss Speaks sings here Thursday evening she will give the same program which she sang at the Peabody Institute in Baltimore a few weeks ago, one of the highest type musical engagements in the country. Also her program will include many of the numbers which she sang when President and Mrs. Roosevelt invited her to give one of the most important of the White House concerts last season.

Tickets for the concert may be obtained from members of the Symphony board, the orchestra or at the Palace theater. There is no charge for reservations and there still are many good seats available for reservations, the sponsors said.

Runaway Balloon Menace to Planes In 200-Mile Drift

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., March 13—A "runaway" balloon perilled airway traffic four hours last night as it drifted 200 miles, finally settling at Kittanning, Pa., 50 miles northeast of Pittsburgh.

Airliners scurled to high altitudes through fear of a skyway collision. Commercial airlines, warned of the unmanned bag, had instructed pilots to remain above 10,000 feet.

The 75-foot, torpedo-shaped balloon, owned by the Goodyear Aircraft Corp., ripped away from a ground crew here while being brought down from an altitude test. Five men sighted the bag near Kittanning and managed to bring it down by looping the dangling guide ropes around a tree.

Indications were that the bag was not damaged. Karl Fickes, Goodyear's chief of blimp operations, said it would be deflated, folded up and brought back on a truck.

A Goodyear spokesman said the balloon escaped as an anchor line snapped, straining three other supports until they too gave way.

The balloon, of non-rigid construction, was designed for experimental use. It is one-tenth the size of the barrage type generally employed in defenses of war and was launched Feb. 15 amid considerable secrecy. Goodyear officials said it had shown more stability and greater height in tests than balloons now protecting London from enemy planes.

INCOME TAX FILING DEADLINE FRIDAY

Agents Busy; Last-Minute Rush Is Expected.

Only two more days remain after today for residents of Marion and vicinity to file their income tax returns, and a big last-minute rush is expected at the branch office here.

R. K. Alkire of Columbus, deputy collector of internal revenue, who has been here since March 1 assisting residents of this district, still clung today to his prediction of about 1,600 returns from Marion and vicinity. This is an increase of about 400 over the average of recent years.

The increase largely results from the new public employes taxing act which requries teachers, city, county and state workers to file returns. Teachers have been coming here from many surrounding towns to file, Mr. Alkire reported.

The total number of filings will not be known until after the deadline, of course, since may persons have their returns made out but hold back payment until the last minute.

The office, located in the basement of the post office on the State street side, was crowded most of yesterday, with about 165 persons filing. The office will be open until 8 p. m. tonight and tomorrow night and until midnight Friday, the deadline. It opens daily at 8 a. m.

FINNISH PEACE

This, said the foreign minister, creates new responsibilities and makes a new building program necessary. He called for a united nation to carry out the reconsolidation.

Asks United Front

"We have risen from ruin before," he declared. "We have plenty of land left.

"The united front it needed just as surely during peace as war.

"There is the foundation for a new dawn for our nation in the future."

(Reuters, British news agency, quoted a dispatch from Helsinki to the French news agency, Havas, as saying that "in some Finnish circles there are fears that today may not see ratification of the treaty but a coup overthrowing the government."

(The Havas dispatch said War Minister Juho Niukkanen and Education Minister K. Hannula had resigned.)

Parliament was in session last night and there were unverified reports that it already was debating the terms for peace but a foreign office statement that the signing of a treaty had not yet been confirmed seemed to rule out such a possibility.

Action Due in Three Days

According to Moscow reports, the agreement provides for ratification within three days and an exchange of ratifications within 10 which would mean that the Finnish lawmakers must decide before Friday night.

(A Columbia Broadcasting System correspondent at Helsinki telephoned New York that parliament would meet at noon (5 a. m., Marion time).

All signs pointed to a thorough examination of the treaty by parliament. Eighty-five of the 200 seats are held by the Social Democratic party headed by Foreign Minister Vaino Tanner, a principal target of attack in Russian propaganda.

Tanner has headed the foreign affairs ministry in the coalition government formed after the start of the war and his party has the largest parliamentary representation.

Drastic Political Changes Forecast

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, March 13 — Scandinavian political quarters expressed the belief that drastic political changes were inevitable in Finland following conclusion of peace with Russia and that formation of a temporary military government was likely, possibly headed by Field Marshal Baron Gutaf Carl Mannerheim, Finland's war leader.

It was reported here that two Finnish cabinet ministers already had resigned.

Finland, it was said, is now facing a troubled period of readjustment and rehabilitation in which military rule would appear necessary.

War Casualties Placed at 565,000

By The Associated Press

COPENHAGEN, March 13 — Foreign military observers today estimated the Finnish-Russian war had cost at least 565,000 casualties, half of them dead.

These sources divided the losses this way:

Russia — approximately 250,000 dead and 250,000 wounded.

Finland—30,000 dead and 35,000 wounded.

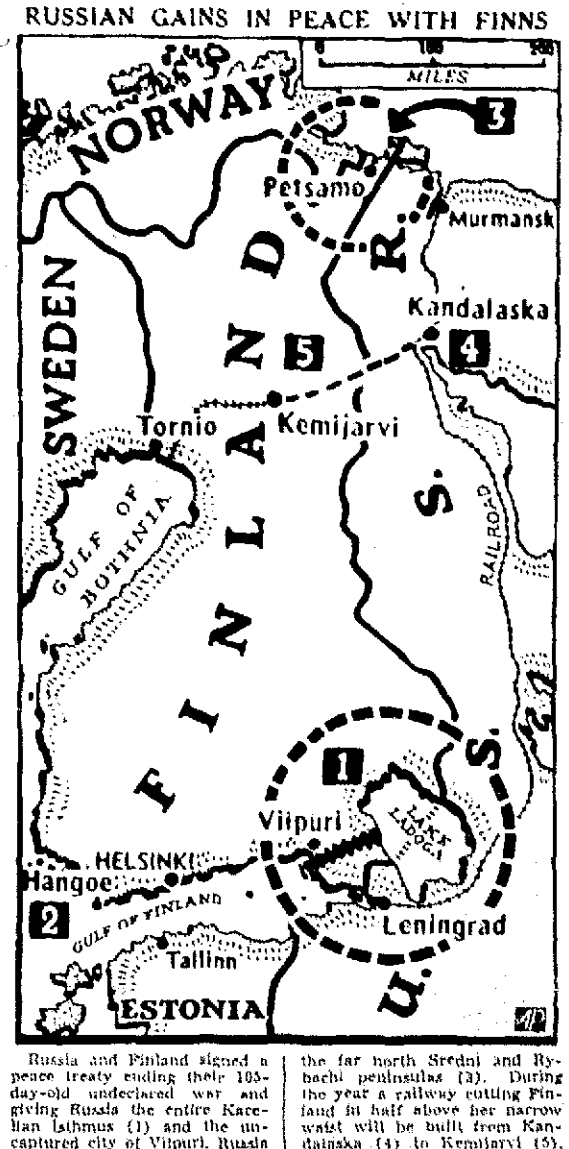
That the abnormally high percentage of war dead was attributed to the bitter cold weather in which most of the war was fought. Many deaths were from freezing after wounds which otherwise would not have been fatal.

HEALTH WINNERS NAMED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 13— The Ohio Public Health association has announced the following division winners in a statewide high school publication contest: articles on eradication of tuberculosis: Cleveland John Marshall; editorials: Fostoria; news story: Wellsville; feature story:

RUSSIAN GAINS IN PEACE WITH FINNS



Russia and Finland signed a peace treaty ending their 105-day-old undeclared war and giving Russia the entire Karelian isthmus (1) and the uncaptured city of Viipuri. Russia also gained a 30-year lease on the southwestern Finland "Gibraltar" of Hangoe (2) and the far north Sredni and Rybachi peninsulas (3). During the year a railway cutting Finland in half above her narrow waist will be built from Kandalaska (4) to Kemijarvi (5), eastern terminus of the Finnish railway westward from the Gulf of Bothnia.

Mussolini and Adolf Hitler, are eager to prevent.

Fascists, also said the treaty was further evidence of British and French inability to aid small nations.

GERMANS JUBILANT OVER FINNISH PEACE

BERLIN, March 13—Authorized German sources beamed with satisfaction today over the Russia-Finnish peace.

Its terms, they said, were "in just proportion to the sacrifices made and in just proportion to the needs and necessities which certain states in large 'living spaces' have a right to claim."

Authorized sources further held that conclusion of the peace marked failure of a so-called British-French attempt to extend the area of combat into Scandinavia.

They spoke with greatest disdain of "those buffoons" who thought at the last moment they could use Finland "the same way they used Poland."

"Fortunately," they added, "the Finns proved more sensible than the Poles. The whole affair is anything but honorable for England and France. These western powers totally miscalculated."

SOUTHEASTERN EUROPE SEES HOPEFUL SIGNS

BUDAPEST, March 13—Neutral southeastern Europe appeared to react hopefully today to the Russian-Finnish peace.

Authoritative quarters in Hungary, bordering both the Soviet union and Germany, asserted that the price exacted of the Finns was "relatively cheap for ending a hopeless war," and expressed belief that German influence had been predominant in preventing intervention through the northern countries by the British and French.

The southeastern neutral countries appeared generally agreed that Germany was trying to keep this area peaceful and productive but that war would have extended quickly to southeastern Europe if the allies had fought Russia in Finland.

* * *

BERNE, Switzerland, March 13 —The Swiss, in the words of the newspaper Baseler Nachrichten, "learned with consternation" today of the Russian Finnish settlement.

Many newspapers asserted that the treaty was "forced" on the Finns.

The Nachrichten blamed the British-French allies for being slow to aid and hesitating to break with Russia.

KALLIO ASKS HOOVER TO CONTINUE RELIEF

HELSINKI, March 13—President Kyosti Kallio of Finland sent a cable to Herbert Hoover today asking that American help for Finland be continued.

He thanked Hoover for the aid already sent by Hoover's committee.

The cablegram said:

"I hope with all my heart that you will continue to alleviate the lot of those suffering on account of the war for the present and the coming years will be moving into the territory of the republic.

"We have signed a compulsory peace, but we have that our struggle for right has gained us the sympathy of the civilized world and hope we shall not be left to [illegible] work of [illegible]

MARYSVILLE TRIAL NOW IN THIRD DAY

Former Associates of Accused Dayton Man Called.

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE, March 13 — Trial of Samuel P. Sloane of Dayton, accused of violation of the state securities act, moved into its third day here this morning with two of Mr. Sloane's former business associates being called as witnesses for the prosecution.

W. H. Adenbroad, salesman of the Superfine Service, Inc., a vending machine distributing concern, testified he had been in the employment of Mr. Sloane. Sidney Kitsworm, formerly an attorney for the defendant, was questioned briefly by Prosecuting Attorney William J. Porter.

The jury was dismissed during preliminary interrogation of Attorney Kitsworm. Because of his relationship with the defendant his testimony was not admitted in its entirety.

H. E. Randall, one of two other men now free on $9,000 bond following indictment by the Union county grand jury in connection with the same case, testified briefly yesterday. He told of signing checks and bills of sale for vending machines. It was expected that he would be re-called by the prosecution for later testimony.

Mrs. Evelyn Mullen, the defendant's stenographer, also was called.

Sloane is accused of being the head of a group of men who sold two Marysville women 101 candy vending machines. The machines were sold for $67.50 each and were supposed to give the women a return of 40 cents monthly rental, it is charged.

MRS. SARAH TROXAL OF REED AVENUE DIES

Stricken at Sister's Home; Funeral Friday at 10 A. M.

Mrs. Sarah Margaret Troxal, 73, a resident of Marion for 23 years, died today at 10 a. m. at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Rider of 210 Reed avenue. Death followed a year's illness.

Mrs. Troxal had lived at the Rider home since the death of her husband, John N. Troxal, 17 years ago. She was born in Paulding on Oct. 8, 1866 to George and Mary Ilah Good, natives of Pennsylvania.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Rehekah Powers of Ethel, Mich., and Mrs. Rider, and three brothers, Mathias Good of Richwood, A. C. Good of Marion and Alfred Good of Paulding.

A nephew of Mrs. Troxal, Rev. Cecil M. Good of Muncie, Ind., will conduct the funeral Friday at 10 a. m. at the Rider home. Burial will be made in the Paulding, O., cemetery. Friends may call at the Rider home after noon Thursday.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Keck of 882½ East Center street are parents of a son born this morning at City hospital.

BLAINE AVE. WOMAN TAKEN BY DEATH

Mrs. Elizabeth Charles, Former Gallonite, Dies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Charles, 82, widow of James Charles and a former resident of Galion, died last night at 7 at her home at 444 Blaine avenue. She had suffered heart trouble for the last two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles came to Marion from Galion 28 years ago. Mr. Charles' death occurred 12 years ago.

Mrs. Charles was born in Richland county on June 24, 1857 to Jacob and Ann Hirth. Her marriage took place in Galion.

She was a member of First Evangelical and Reformed church.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Anna Line of 444 Blaine avenue, and two brothers, Martin Hirth of Galion and George of Mt. Gilead.

Friends may call after 7 tonight at the W. C. Boyd funeral home on West Columbia street where the funeral will be conducted Friday at 1:30 p. m. Rev. E. H. Wierth of First Evangelical and Reformed church will be in charge. Burial will be made in the Galion cemetery.

M'CORMICK'S SANITY RULED ON BY COURT

Present Condition Held No Issue In Trial.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 13—Common Pleas Judge Samuel E. Kramer ruled today that John L. McCormick's present sanity is not in issue in his trial for first degree murder.

"Neither the prosecution or the defense contends the defendant is now insane," said Judge Kramer in declining Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan's suggestion that he determine the point before proceeding.

Alienists then testified for the state in rebuttal to defense psychiatric evidence. The latter said the [illegible]-year-old Pittsburgh university student was "emotionally unstable" and was mentally unbalanced Jan. 8 when he held up Western Union Telegraph Co. headquarters here and shot Theodore Nichols, a guard.

James C. Connell, defense attorney said "we make no claim of any insanity at this time."

TRAFFIC

dents and list the disposition on the accident report.

An analysis of police records of 460 accidents showed that in only one respect were the files 100 per cent complete—designation of the location of the accident. The data was listed on 99.3 per cent, the time on 98 per cent, make and type of vehicle on 79.3 per cent, the driver's experience on none. There was a description of 99.1 per cent of all accidents, however.

Percentage of Arrests

In 24 accidents, or 5.2 per cent, there was an arrest made. In 120 accidents, or 26.1 per cent, there was improper driving.

The report comments that in items essential for an engineering approach to the traffic problem the police records on accidents varied from .8 of one per cent to 100 per cent. In items needed for the enforcement program the reporting ranged from zero to 92.2 per cent.

"It is obvious that a system of recording accidents which does not produce a greater percentage of vital data than that shown is inadequate as a foundation for corrective programs," the report stated.

The "Worst Corners"

The list of 24 "worst corners" shows that most of them are on main through streets. There are nine on Center, seven on Columbia, five on Church, two on Main. The complete list follows:

Columbia street at Olney, Park boulevard, Windsor, Pearl, Prospect, Main and State.

Center street at Davida, Olney, Leader, Orchard, Campbell, Prospect, Main, State and Vine.

Main street at Fairground and Mill.

Church street at Orchard, Olney, Prospect, Main and State.

Silver street at Leader.

ALLIANCE DEFEATS LEVIES

More Republicans

Of those who have filed for county offices, 37 are Republicans and 22 are Democrats. This morning there were still vacancies on both tickets for coroner and the Democrats had presented no candidate for prosecutor or common pleas judge, although Judge Hector S. Young is expected to seek reelection.

Likewise, no slates of delegates and alternates to the national Democratic and Republican conventions from the Eighth district had been filed.

Committee Contest Seen

A race which may appear is for the position of Eighth district woman member of the Republican state central committee. Mrs. Willa Brollier of Mt. Gilead, now committeewoman, filed today, and another woman from Marion took out petitions. No opposition has appeared for Bud H. Lawson (R) of Marion and Maurice A. McMahon (D) of Kenton who are seeking the committeemen's posts in their parties and for Mrs. Gail Jordon of Findlay, seeking the Democratic woman's post.

Candidates who filed yesterday and today are:

Paul D. Smith (R) of Marion, for common pleas judge.

Harrison Kraner (D) of near Claridon, for county commissioner.

J. O. Weiss (D) of south of Marion, for county commissioner (reelection).

John Weaver (R) of Marion, for sheriff.

In addition to other offices, the candidates are piling up for precinct committee positions in each party. To date 44 Republicans and 32 Democrats have filed. There are 57 precinct posts to be filled in each party.

SPECIAL NOTICE

*Of Sincere Thanks — We wish to take this method of gratefully thanking every one who had any part in recovering the body of "Our Darling" Donald Eugene Thaxton from those angry, muddy flood waters of the Scioto river. Especially do we thank Minnie Van Sickle, Mildred and Charlie Hinton who rescued our father and husband and the five other boys who narrowly escaped the same death as little Donald. Special thanks to Earl Drake who first discovered the body and Dan Schmidt, Arnold Miller, Melvin Schwaderer, Robert Drake, Raymond Behner, Kenneth Kinsler, Gromer Johnson, Lester Carey, Roy Beckley and all others, who so diligently toiled and labored those three sad, long days donating their time and exposing their health. If you had any part at all, you are included. We wish to thank Rev. Bailey for his consoling words, the singers, Merle Hughes, and the ladies aid for their help and all who furnished the beautiful flowers, the neighbors, yet we feel safe to say the whole countryside for their kindness. Words seem Oh too short to express our gratitude. Only eternity knows. It was sad, Oh so sad, to give up our Darling, but Oh the joy it meant to us when we received word that the body had been found.

SALE OF AUTO TAGS MOVING SLOWLY

Only 1,750 Sets Sold; Rush Expected Later in Month.

Approximately 1,750 sets of the new 1940 automobile licenses have been issued so far at the license bureau, indicating that there may be a rush when the deadline comes on March 31.

James E. Messenger, deputy registrar of motor vehicles, said that probably 7,000 or 8,000 should be issued by the deadline. He advised motorists to come in for the plates as early as possible to avoid congestion later on. Yesterday and today both were somewhat slow.

In addition to passenger auto tags, truck and trailer and motorcycle license applications are taken at the office at 121 West Church street.

The hours are from 8:30 to 5.

Marionites Win 10 of 16 Berths in Tomorrow's Golden Gloves Finals

Caledonia, Crestline, Columbus and Delaware Also Represented; Over 500 See Semi-Finals.

By CHARLES HOSTETLER
Marion Star Sports Editor

MARION feather-slingers dominated semi finals of the Golden Gloves boxing tournament last night at the Marion Steam Shovel sports arena winning eight of the 16 berths for tomorrow night's championship fights

Two other local youths qualified without stepping into the ring giving Marion its largest representation in the title round since the classic was inaugurated six years ago Bucyrus boasts two finalists and single entrants hail from Caledonia Crestline, Delaware and Columbus

Ten duels comprised the semi-final card witnessed by upwards of 500 spectators Competing for the right to advance to the championship round were 11 local boys four from Bucyrus three Crestline and two Richwood Seven Marion boys emerged victorious as did two from Bucyrus and one from Crestline

One Real Kayo

The bouts were scattered from the fly-eight (110 pounds) through the middleweight (160 pounds) Five ended in technical knockouts four went to decisions of the judges and one kayo was the real McCoy One scheduled 'fray' was called off by a forfeit

Last night's results brought these pairings for the championship finals

Robert Shelton vs James Forsythe both of Marion flyweight Lloyd Holt of Marion vs Eddie Talley of Crestline bantamweight Dan Mathews vs Eddie Johnson both of Marion, featherweight Ray Forbis of Marion vs Ralph Barlow of Bucyrus lightweight Otis Scott vs Jimmy Gilmore both of Marion welterweight Joe Benedict of Marion vs Charles Hightower of Bucyrus middleweight Carl Wetley of Marion vs Tom Walker of Caledonia light heavyweight Russ Mendenhall of Delaware vs Lee Wilson of Columbus, heavyweight

Bucyrus Wins

Nearest thing to a bona fide knockout came in the closing middleweight bout between Charles Hightower, Bucyrus colored 160-pounder, and Kenneth Battee of Marion Hightower landed a sleeper left to the face at 1:40 in the second and it was lights out for Battee The Bucyrus puncher made his own opening for the kayo jab by punishing Battee with a persistent barrage of rights to the midriff

Technical kayoes were numerous making the task of the judges comparatively easy and leaving only four decisions in their hands Danny Mathews popular local puncher took an early edge in his featherweight tilt with Crestline's Sam Walker Mathews kept shooting punches to Walker's middle and scored a knockdown before the first round closed Walker took a nine-count in the first and at the 20 second mark of the next his handlers to sed in the towel

Otis Scott of Marion continued on the footsteps of his older brother Pete two time welterweight champ He mowed down Clarence (Red) Applegate of Bucyrus in the one minute flurry of the second round Applegate's rushing tactics failed to bother the red headed Scot who to ed rights with machine gun rapidity

Behind Applegate hanging on the ropes late in the first and was fast putting him away when Referee A J Wagner halted the slaughter the welter-weight match might have ended disastrously for Scott On one occasion he was pushed through the ropes as Applegate charged Scott hung by his heels and narrowly missed landing on his head at the ringside

Floors Crestline Pugilist

Eddie Johnson colored 121-pound battler of Marion showed plenty of class in his two round technical kayo against Bernard Rawls of Crestline Johnson a powerful puncher methodically cut Rawls down to his size and then proceeded to slow him away Rawls took a nine-count before a left to the jaw sent him into the resin and the scrap was stopped The victory which made Johnson eligible for the featherweight title match came at the 55-second mark in the second round

James Gilmore of Marion fled from the start in his welterweight duel with Clarence Harrison of Richwood The colored youngster from Union county had Gilmore off his feet for a few fleeting seconds of the first Gilmore's superior footwork and with it the ability to land often gave him a decided edge He won by a technical knockout midway in the second

Ray Forbis of Marion eliminated Monroe Fields of Richwood in their lightweight melee Ray, a southpaw sandlot pitcher shoved his portside punch like a veteran A pair of lefts early in the second were the decisive blows Fields had no argument when Referee Wagner awarded Forbis the match at 1:40 in the second

Crestline Fighter Wins

Eddie Talley of Crestline pounded out a popular decision over Ken Gracely of Bucyrus in a bantamweight semi-final Talley outboxed his foe all the way Russell Smith and Robert Shelton, both of Marion took things easy through the three rounds of their flyweight match Shelton got the nod

Lloyd Holt managed to outpoint John Thorn despite giving his foe a decided advantage in reach Thorn in open glove artist didn't do any serious damage The duo persisted in walking into each other's lefts Both were groggy but game at the end nearest Holt qualified as a bantamweight finalist by taking the decision

Ralph Barlow of Bucyrus stopped Howard Hodges of Marion in a lightweight match Hodges made the mistake of letting Barlow carry the fight He managed to close Barlow's right eye but the Bucyrus boy won by an easy margin

Joe Benedict became a finalist contender for the middleweight crown when he won his scheduled bout with Times Casperson by forfeit Both are local products and Benedict likes on a big assignment in facing Charles Hightower of Bucyrus in tomorrow night's finals

STOLEN BIKES RECOVERED, ONE WITH WHEELS GONE

Police yesterday recovered two stolen bicycles and a third bicycle which apparently had been stolen and abandoned.

A bicycle owned by Jack Dowell of 159 Jefferson street was found abandoned on Forest Lawn boulevard with both wheels missing. Officers said it apparently had been stripped in a vacant lot sometime during the last few days. It was reported stolen from South High street last week.

A bicycle owned by Donald Blinn of 740 Uncapher avenue reported stolen from in front of the State theater was found by officers at the rear of the Marion theater last night.

A small girl's bicycle was found in a yard on East Church street near Clover street, but no inquiries have yet been made regarding it at the police station. Officers reported they made a checkup of the neighborhood where the bicycle was found but were unable to locate the owner.

MAN FOUND GUILTY ON DELINQUENCY CHARGE

Ray Kimmel, about 40, of South Vine street was found guilty of contributing to the delinquency of a 13-year-old Marion girl at a hearing before Juvenile Judge Oscar Gast yesterday. Sentence was reserved. He allegedly accosted the girl a week ago while she was walking home from school and had previously enticed her to visit his quarters in a rooming house, court officials said. Kimmel has been known as Ray Winslow, having adopted the latter name after making his home with relatives of that name.

CAUSE OF PLANE CRASH IS SOUGHT AT DAYTON

By The Associated Press

DAYTON, O., March 13 — A board of inquiry of the army air corps sought today to determine what caused a Seversky pursuit plane capable of speeds up to 300 miles an hour to crash yesterday, killing the pilot, Clark N. Piper, 35, of Paris, Ill.

Piper, attached to the aircraft laboratory at Wright Field, was on a routine navigation training flight in the single-seater when the crash occurred three miles north of the field. William J. Payton, a witness, reported that the ship apparently failed to come out of a power dive.

Major Carlyle Ridenour headed the board of inquiry.

MARION QUOTA FOR BOYS' STATE FILLED

Legion Men Hear Report on Pledges; Meetings Planned.

Marion sponsors of youths for Boys' State at Columbus in the summer have given their support to the extent that the city's quota of pledges have already been exceeded, it was reported at Tuesday night's meeting of Bird-McGinnis Post No. 162, American Legion.

The county American Legion essay contest, participated in by the Prospect, Caledonia and Marion posts, will be climaxed in a county meeting at an early date at which medals and awards will be presented. Parents, friends, teachers and others interested in the activity will be invited to attend.

Formation of a Legion chorus and quartet, as a nucleus for an expanding program of music development in the post was launched. Clyde H. Faust was named to take charge.

Progress was reported on arrangements to bring Homer Chaillaux of Los Angeles, national Americanization director for the Legion, to Marion in the summer. Police Chief W. E. Marks discussed plans of the Legion and 40 et 8 members to attend the state and national conventions next fall. The state meeting will be at Toledo and the national convention will be held in Boston. Present plans are to take the 40 et 8 box car and locomotive to both conventions, Chief Marks announced.

A delegation of Bird-McGinnis post members will attend a dinner and program of the LaRue post Friday night. State officers will be guests.

At the next meeting on March 26, Carl S. Kay of Marion will be a guest. He will relate his experiences while serving with the A. E. F. in Russia in 1918.

She's "against everything sinful," said Mrs. Alice Hession, preferring charges against two merchants who, she said, sold her tomatoes and pepper on Sunday in violation of Baltimore's old "blue laws."

ROY RETTERER ELECTED HEAD OF P.-T. A. GROUP

Officers headed by Roy Retterer as president were elected last night when the George Washington P.-T. A. met at the school. Other officers are Merle Virden, vice president; Miss Helen Warwick, second vice present; Mrs. John Syperski, secretary, and Ralph Robey, treasurer.

Cecil Gabler, retiring president, made an appeal for cooperation in the citywide P.-T. A. "used shoe" drive for needy children.

The group decided to sponsor a Girl Scout troop.

The program included: devotions, Mrs. Harry Wilhelm; songs by the third and fifth grades; flute solo, Patty Guy, and a talk on the presidents by Earl N. Hale.

LENTEN SERVICE HELD BY EPWORTH SOCIETY

A Lenten offering service, "The Meal in the Upper Room," which took its theme from the Last Supper and which was in charge of Mrs. T. S. Cathers, was conducted when the Luey Webb Hayes Missionary society of Epworth Methodist church met last night at the church. Fifty-five members and guests were seated at a long table lighted by candles. The menu was roast lamb, unleavened bread, wine, rice, olives, dates, figs, nuts, cheese and grapes. Silence was maintained throughout the meal except for the reading of Bible passages by members of the society. Old hymns were chanted by a quartet composed of Mrs. Verna Laucher, Mrs. Chester Berry, Mrs. R. E. Acker and Mrs. Geraldine Indoe, with Mrs. Gladys Arter at the piano. After the meal and as the group left the table each person deposited her Lenten offering in a basket on the table. Guests were members of the senior missionary society. Preceding the offering service Mrs. Berry read current events from a missionary magazine and Mrs. Ray Klehm reviewed a chapter of the study book, "Homeland Harvest."

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET AT MRS. BEAL'S HOME

Twenty-two members attended a meeting of Circle of Light, King's daughters, Monday night with Mrs. Mary Beal of 262 Uhler avenue. Mrs. Alta Morris conducted devotions. A chapter from the history of Maple Crest, the King's Daughters home at Bucyrus, was given by Mrs. Mildred Ulsh and the Bible story was presented by Mrs. Edna McPeck. Mrs. Maude Robinson was in charge of the question period. Arrangements were made for a bake sale at a business meeting with Mrs. Irene Dengler of 1225 East Center street, and for a work meeting March 24 with Mrs. Helen Meredith of 143 Spencer street. The hostess was assisted in serving a St. Patrick's day lunch by Mrs. Velma Nagley.

THOMAS C. MAHON, 71, IS STRICKEN AT KENTON

Special to The Star

KENTON, March 13 — Thomas C. Mahon, 71, prominent Kenton attorney, director of the Kenton Savings bank and of the Scioto Sign Co., died in McKitrick hospital Tuesday after illness of several days with influenza. Hope was held for his recovery until Monday when his condition became critical.

Surviving are his wife, two sons, Paul T. Mahon, Kenton attorney, and Frank Mahon of Detroit; two brothers, Ed of Chicago and Judson Mahon of Findlay.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Brendley funeral home.

INSPECTION SET

Mrs. Mary Long of Columbus, zone commander of the department of Ohio, will inspect the women's auxiliary to Chapter 22, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, Thursday night at the Armory. Opening and closing ritual and initiation of a candidate will be presented for rating.

NEW THEATER FOR FOREST

KENTON, March 13 — A new theater was assured for Forest when workmen, under the supervision of Leo T. Jones of Upper Sandusky and Edward T. Gibbons of Canton, started reconstruction of the old Forest Hatchery building for that purpose. Building plans have been approved by the state division of building inspection.

UNION URGES AID FOR FIRE DEPARTMENT

Increased Personnel, More Equipment Recommended.

Increased personnel and equipment for the Marion fire department were recommended by the Central Labor Union at a meeting last night in its quarters at the Citizens Building.

The recommended increases should be made to avoid a possible increase in fire insurance rates, members pointed out during a discussion. Members also made suggestions that the city should adopt a definite program of fire department maintenance to prevent any future "crisis."

Officers of the organization were authorized to contact Ohio senators and representatives urging support of proposed legislation affecting Panama Canal Zone workers. The bill, it was reported, restricts employment to American citizens. At present persons of other nationalities are employed.

Four new delegates, representing Roosevelt Auxiliary Machinists Local No. 277, Moulders Local No. 386, Bricklayers Local No. 47 and Firefighters Local No. 379, were given official recognition.

CALVARY EVANGELICAL CIRCLE HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. Lucille Coleman, Mrs. Paul Zachman and Miss Ruth Zachman presented the lesson study at a meeting of 34 members and guests of the Loyal Ruth circle of Calvary Evangelical church last night with Mrs. Ed Sprow of 320 Kennedy court. Following collection of a Lincoln penny offering Miss Wilma Click talked on the meaning of stewardship. Current events were in charge of Miss Delta Midlam. A leaflet, "Oil for the Lamp of God," was read by Mrs. Florence Howard. Miss Elizabeth Zachman conducted devotions and offered prayer. A song was read by Mrs. Paul Temple of Meeker. Two songs were sung by a trio composed of Misses Jane Ruth Idella Harruff and Virginia Rutherford, guests. Other guests were Rev. P. E. Smoke, pastor, and Mrs. Smoke, Mr. and Mrs. Sprow, Mrs. N. Breedveld of Kalamazoo, Mich., Mrs. Charles Feaver and Mrs. Tracy Zachman. The meeting was in charge of Misses Mary Jane Zachman, Hazel Berringer and Lillian Nancy.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY SILVER STREET P.-T. A.

Mrs. Marie Burke as president heads the newly elected officers of the Silver Street P. T. A., elected at a meeting of the association Tuesday night. Other officers are Miss Elizabeth Gray, vice president; Mrs. Genevieve Kauffman, secretary and Mrs. Ethel Hess, treasurer. Mark McKittrick of the Central Junior High school faculty presented a talk on, "Mental Hygiene" and Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, spoke on "Adult Education." Mrs. O. B. Christ, Clifford George, Lyle Patton, Mrs. Marie Burke and Mrs. S. N. Hartley were named on a committee to study possible improvements at the school.

PRESBYTERIAN AID GROUP MEETS AT TURNER HOME

Activities of the General Aid society of First Presbyterian church were reported by Mrs. J. C. Turner at a meeting of Circle 4 yesterday afternoon with the leader, Miss Amy Turner at 420 South State street. Plans were completed for the General society's annual birthday dinner on March 28 at the church. A Bible contest followed devotions by Mrs. C. A. Frank. Mrs. A. F. Linscott won a mystery box. A social hour followed the business session.

BRITISH INDIA LEADER KILLED BY ASSASSIN

By The Associated Press

LONDON, March 13—Sir Michael O'Dwyer, former lieutenant governor of the Punjab, was shot to death and Lord Zetland, secretary of state for India, was wounded at a meeting of the India association tonight by an Indian gunman. Sir Louis Dane and Lord Lamington also were wounded. The meeting was held in London.

Sir Michael, an official of Britain's Indian civil service from 1885 to 1920, was known as an advocate of strong measures in handling the Indian problem.

CONDITION IMPROVES

The condition of Mrs. Dallas Harruff of 213 Elm street, who underwent a major operation at City hospital Friday, is improved, hospital attendants reported.

The Gumps — By Gus Edson

YOU-YOU FOUL BALL! SUCH UNMITIGATED NERVE! YOU DARED TO PLACE THAT UPSTART MIN GUMP'S NAME ON THE INVITATIONS FOR MY PARTY!!
J-JUST A MOMENT, MAMA, DEAR—
3-13
OF ALL THE UNDERHANDED, DOUBLE-DEALING, SCURVY TRICKS, THAT TAKES FIRST PRIZE!
B-BUT, MAMA
I'VE ALWAYS KNOWN THAT NONE OF YOU GUMPS COULD BE TRUSTED—WHY, OH, WHY DID I EVER LET MY DAUGHTER MARRY INTO SUCH A LOW-LIFE FAMILY!
SHUT UP!! I'VE HEARD ENOUGH—YOU-YOU EX-DISH-WASHER!
OOH, BIMBO— HOW CAN YOU SAY SUCH A CRUEL, CRUEL THING TO ME— WHERE IS YOUR CHIVALRY? BOO-HOO— I'M JUST A POOR DEFENSELESS GIRL—
